THE CALIFORNIA ELECTION.

The News Improving—The Congressional Delegation Republican in all Probability—The Majority About 6,000.

Special Dispatch to the New-York Times.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 8.—The news from California continues to improve. The dispatches received here today render it certain that the Republicans have carried the Legislature, and that the majority will be fully 5,000. There is also a hope that even HOUGHTON has been elected to Congress in the First District, now represented by AXTELL, Democrat. Senator COLE today telegraphed to the President: "California is fully righted up, and is in line for next year with all sails set." WM. GOUVERNEUR MORRIS, United States Marshal, also telegraphed: "We have elected our Governor, and whole State ticket, two Congressmen sure, and probably the third. Present advices also indicate we shall have the Legislature by a decided majority." Commissioner DOUGLASS also received a dispatch today from Supervisor FOULKE, of California, saying that the State has probably gone Republican by 5,000 majority, and that the Legislature is secured and three Congressmen.

SAN FRANCISCO, Sept. 7.—The Republican majority in San Francisco is from 2,000 to 3,000, and in the State at least 6,000. Judge WILLIAM LIVINGSTON committed suicide, at Virginia City, today, by taking morphine, in consequence of financial troubles.

NEWTON BOOTH, Governor elect of California, arrived here this evening from Sacramento, and was received with great enthusiasm.

THE KUKLUX ACT.

Indictments Found in Mississippi Under the Kuklux Bill—Activity of District-Attorneys Jacobson and Wells and Gov. Alcorn.

Special Dispatch to the New-York Times.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 8.—The operations of the civil arm in the suppression and punishment of Kuklux outrages has been far more extensive and in many respects more effective than the public has been led to suppose. Intelligence of the action of the Courts and law officers of the Government has been suppressed to a great degree by the Press agents at the South, who mostly sympathize with the perpetrators of the outrages. It is not surprising that there has been found in some cases both timidity and inexperience on the part of Judges, as well as law officers, in the enforcement of the so-called Kuklux law. As a distinguished officer today expressed it, the enactment of the law opened a new road heretofore well nigh unexplored by our jurists. Like the Civil Rights bill and kindred legislation, it conferred a new and hitherto unexercised jurisdiction upon the United States Courts in the South, and immediately the legal ability of that entire section unitedly arose to resist and assail it. Inasmuch as the right of appeal to the Supreme Court of the United States lies in every case, punishment must necessarily be slow and tedious. Nevertheless in several of the districts unusual and even surprising vigor has been shown in the prosecution of offenders. Especially has this been the case in Mississippi, where, in the northern district, District-Attorney WELLS has procured 175 indictments by the Grand Jury, while District-Attorney JACOBSON, in the Southern District, has been almost equally successful. Gov. ALCORN has rendered very efficient aid by acting in concert with the United States authorities, and he has to a considerable degree overcome one great difficulty by securing two of the ablest lawyers and most prominent citizens of the State to aid the District-Attorneys in the prosecution of the offenders. In this manner the bar of prejudice and sympathy with the perpetrators by the better classes has been largely broken, and a sentiment against the outrages is being built up among the people. In North Carolina the prosecuting officers have been equally vigorous, and the Grand Jury has presented over 300 indictments. Most of these have been arrested, and are now either in custody or under bonds. The trials will begin in October. While the Courts may not in all respects be equal to the emergency of the situation, yet it is believed that at their Fall terms there will be a large number of convictions, and that the salutary influence thereof will be felt in all the afflicted States.

Judge Tarbell Released on Bail.

JACKSON, Miss., Sept. 8.—Judge TARBELL was today brought before the United States Commissioner, under the Enforcement act, and waiving an examination was admitted to bail in the sum of $1,000 for appearance in the United States Court in January next. The offense of Judge TARBELL consisted in his telling certain Republican officials that unless they supported Capt. LAKE, one of the Republican candidates for Sheriff, in the ensuing election, he would urge their removal from office.

The Catholic Church Difficulty at Hudson.

HUDSON, Sept. 8.—The Catholic organization in this city opposed to the ministration of Father O'SULLIVAN hold possession of the keys of the church and of his late residence, and express a determination to resist his return to the pastorate at all hazards. The organization has increased in strength during the suspension of the priest, and trouble is anticipated next Sunday should Mr. O'SULLIVAN attempt to enter the church. The rebels have called a meeting at St. Mary's Hall to-morrow evening, to perfect their organization, and adopt a plan of operations, if extreme measures are required. They are calm, but determined.

ESCAPE OF PRISONERS.

A Dangerous Criminal at Large—Escape of the Boy Carroll from Milford, Penn., Jail—An Ingenious and Bold Feat.

From Our Special Correspondent.

MILFORD, Penn., Friday, Sept. 8, 1871.

This morning the keeper of the County Jail at this place—where the boys CARROLL and HARRINGTON are confined, and from which they almost succeeded in escaping on Wednesday—entered the cell of these young desperadoes and found CARROLL gone, and the irons of HARRINGTON nearly filed off. A bar was gone out of one of the windows, and the iron bed-post had again been used as a lever. HARRINGTON, after a long fit of laughter at the discomfiture of the jailer, informed that official that CARROLL had obtained his freedom by cutting off his irons with the rough edge of the stove-damper, using the dust of a brick he had torn from the hearth, and powdered, to facilitate the filing. He worked hard nearly all night, the shackles giving way about 2½ o'clock. He then commenced the same operation on the irons of HARRINGTON, but at the urgent request of the latter who saw the impossibility of his companion getting him free before daylight, CARROLL pried out the same bar they had freed on Wednesday, and bidding HARRINGTON good-bye, made his escape about 4 o'clock this morning. The authorities were at once informed of the fact, and officers have been sent in every direction, but as yet nothing has been seen of the daring young fugitive. He told HARRINGTON that he was going to strike for the mountains, but as there are mountains on all sides this information is not very definite. HARRINGTON enjoys the chagrin of the officers, and says they won't find him either, when he is wanted at Court. He says they cannot catch CARROLL, for he has been in the same situation before, being before this an escaped jail-bird. CARROLL, who is an innocent, clean, smart looking boy, told the jailor a few days since that he was going to stay with him but a few days longer; that he would "go to —— before he'd go to the Penitentiary." A watch has now been set upon the cell, to prevent HARRINGTON escaping. Some idea of the ingenuity and daring of these boys may be formed when it is stated that there have been confined in this cell some most notorious and hardened criminals, who have tried in vain to break out. It is thought that CARROLL will be recaptured.

THE WEATHER.

Synopsis of Events and Probabilities.

WASHINGTON, D.C., Sept. 9—1 A. M.—The barometer has risen since Thursday night at the California and Rocky Mountain stations. The low pressure which was north of Kansas has extended north-eastward over Lake Superior and beyond, and the barometer, after falling over this region, is now rising. The area of highest pressure has moved eastward and extends from Maryland to Maine. The low barometer on the South Atlantic Coast has passed north-westward into the Atlantic, with cloudy weather and fresh north-east winds from Georgia to Virginia. Clear weather with fresh northerly winds has prevailed in the Middle and Eastern States, and southerly winds, with clear and hazy weather, from Lake Erie to Iowa, and southward to the Gulf. Brisk southerly winds, with threatening weather, have been reported from Lake Superior to Missouri, but have now subsided, except, probably, in the interior of Wisconsin.

PROBABILITIES.

The barometer will probably begin to fall from Tennessee north and eastward, with north-easterly winds along the Atlantic coast, rising barometer and pleasant weather for the Gulf States and the Upper Lakes. The disturbances which were threatening the latter will probably subside without further danger.

The Myers' Murder Case.

CINCINNATI, Ohio, Sept. 8.—The testimony for the State in the case of TOM MCGHEHAN, charged with the murder of MYERS, began this morning. Dr. BEAUCHAMP, who examined MYERS' wound, testified with much particularity as to the appearance of the wound, saying there was no appearance of powder on the body. A piece of coin with a hole in it was produced for the first time which is said to have been taken from MYERS' pocket after death. Counsel for the State is combating the idea that MYERS shot himself.

Renforth Inquest.

ST. JOHN, N. B., Sept. 8.—The RENFORTH inquest was concluded last evening. The result of the post-mortem examination showed that RENFORTH's lungs were engorged with blood, and that his death was caused by over exertion combined with great mental excitement. Dr. JACKSON, of Boston, testified that no trace of poison could be found in the stomach of the deceased. The verdict of the jury was that RENFORTH came to his death by congestion of the lungs, caused by over exertion.

The New American Loan.

By the Cuba we have the London Advertiser of Aug. 23, which contains the following:

"The new United States Five per Cent. Loan has become the feature of the American market on the London Stock Exchange. The position of the eminent firm of JAY COOKE, MCCULLOCH & Co. attracted attention to this application to the Bourses of Europe, and no sooner was the loan launched on the market than subscriptions poured in, more particularly from Berlin, Frankfort, and Amsterdam, those great centres of commercial operations; and whose readiness to invest in American securities may be accepted as a flattering proof of the confidence that is reposed in the honesty of our trans-Atlantic brethren. A spirit of fairness appears to animate the firm who have brought this loan before the public, and who, in their first operation on the Bourses of Western Europe, have achieved a signal success; and instead of availing themselves of the right to close the subscription list this evening, it is left open, for the purpose of giving to the inhabitants of those important towns which have evinced such readiness to invest in the securities an opportunity of doing so more extensively. The firm under whose auspices this loan has been brought forward are entitled to the respect of those who are engaged in monetary operations, not only for the skill displayed in this maiden essay on the markets, but for the straightforward manner in which they have acted. The intrinsic merit of the security has recommended it to our market, a practical illustration of which is afforded by the fact that the shares are ⅜ to 1 premium."

Ball Playing Among Indians.

The annual game of ball between sixteen picked Indians of the Choctaws, and an equal number of Chickasaws, out of the four or five hundred Indians who still linger in the central portions of the State of Mississippi, was celebrated in Leake County a short time ago. The New-Orleans Picayune thus briefly describes it:

"Tall double spars were erected at each end of the ball park, with a cleft in each about four inches wide. These spars were 300 yards apart, one being assigned to each party. The players were painted as to their faces and bodies, and wore each a single, very scanty garment, fastened about the waist with a girdle of dried buckskin. The ball was of the hardest wood. Each player was armed with a pair of tongs, with cups at the end, with which the ball was handled and thrown, never being touched with the hands. The game begun by grouping all the tawny players midway between the spars, where an old chief, in the midst of the wildest excitement, tossed the ball high into the air, when it fell each party tried to get it, and to carry it or throw it through the spar of the other party. The players were the picked athletes of BOB and LITTLE JIM, the rival chief, and were finely built, stalwart, handsome men. They bounded over the plain with the speed of wild deer. They dashed, wrestled and struggled together without the least regard to danger, suffering or bruises. Without a smile, a word or a groan of pain they pursued their contest on a very hot day for about five hours. The game constituted one of the most interesting and strange spectacles that can be imagined. It was witnessed by several hundred citizens and about 200 Indians of both sexes."

A San Francisco Corner in Hay.

The San Francisco Bulletin of the 1st inst. says that three or four weeks previous to that date certain operators in that city, believing that the hay crop was short, bought up nearly all that was offered in the market, and some of them made excursions into the country and bought for future delivery. Hay went up from $15 a ton, in the towns around the bay, to $20, the figures which the speculators paid. But while many farmers held back and would not sell even at this large advance, thinking that possibly there was going to be a hay famine, it turned out that more hay was sent to market than the operators could manage. The corner could not be maintained, and the price of hay dropped down again. In fact, there was an abundance of hay in all the bay counties, the crop exceeding that of last year, and immense quantities are in store, waiting for another rise, which is not likely to happen at present.

THE SARATOGA REGATTA

Preparations for the International Four-Oared Race.

Arrival of the Spectators—The Contesting Crews—What They Have Been Doing—Anticipations of the Result—What the Betting Men Think.

Special Dispatch to the New-York Times.

SARATOGA, Sept. 8.—There has been a wonderful change in the weather during the last few days, and overcoats have been brought forth again. The preparations for the race are rapidly progressing. A large grand stand has been constructed on the banks of the lake, between the Lake House and the Lake-side House. It is an excellent position, as anybody seated there can obtain a magnificent view of the first and last mile of the race. No steamers or boats of any kind will be allowed on the water during the race. This is a very excellent arrangement, as it will give each crew a fair chance and smooth water, without being subject to the back-wash of some enterprising steamer. The distance to be rowed is about four miles, two miles round a stake-boat and return. The prizes will be as follows: $2,000 to the winning crew, $1,250 to the second, and $750 to the third. This money has been raised by subscription, the list being headed by the Grand Union Hotel with $1,000, and Congress Hall $1,000. The six competitors will be drawn up in line inside a buoy off the Lake House, each fifty yards apart. Each boat will have a separate buoy to turn. The following crews will start in the race:

Taylor-Winship, of England.—Thomas Winship, stroke; Robert Bagnall, Joseph H. Sadler, and James Taylor, bow. Boat built by JEWETT, of Dunstan-on-Tyne; colors white and blue; aggregate weight, 598 pounds.

The Renforth Crew, of England.—Robt. Chambers, stroke; Henry Kelley, John Bright, and James Percy, bow. Boat, Queen Victoria, built by JEWETT, of Dunstan-on-Tyne; colors black and white; aggregate weight, 607 pounds.

The Ward Brothers, Cornwall, N. Y.—Henry Ward, stroke; Josh. Ward, Gilbert Ward, and Ellis Ward, bow. Boat, Dunstan, built by JEWETT, of Dunstan-on-Tyne; aggregate weight, 627 pounds.

The Coulter-Biglin Crew, New-York and Pittsburg.—Henry Coulter, stroke; John Biglin, Joseph Kaye, and Barney Biglin, bow. Boat, America, built by ELLIOTT, of Greenpoint; colors red, white and blue; aggregate weight, 633 pounds.

The Pittsburg Crew.—William Scharff, stroke; Frederick Nunn, Nicholas Denmarsh, and Conrad Minehart, bow. Paper boat, built by WATERS, BALCH & Co., Troy, N. Y.; aggregate weight, 613 pounds.

The Dutchess County Crew.—William Stevens, stroke; Charles Burger, Homer Woodin, and William Burger, bow; colors all white; aggregate weight, 685 pounds.

There is every reason to believe that this will be one of the most closely-contested and fastest races on record. The sports are completely puzzled whom to select as the winner. In fact, each crew is doing so well that their friends are very confident of the result, and bet their money freely. The confidence in the WARD brothers is unabated, and appears to strengthen every minute. They are really worthy of support, and look fit to pull for a kingdom. They have got rid of the elder brother, and ELLIS WARD has taken his place—an excellent change, as there is not a better young oarsman in the country than ELLIS. I have watched these men very closely, and really do not know where to find a fault in their rowing, with the exception that they are perhaps a little slow in recovery. The Coulter-Biglin crew are also growing in the public estimation, and the number of their friends is rapidly increasing. COULTER is doing very well, and has recovered from his recent indisposition. They are very much pleased with their boat, and affirm that it is the best boat ELLIOTT ever built. The Renforth crew have been working very steadily, and talk with confidence of the result. They are all in excellent condition, and pull very cleverly together. The Taylor-Winship crew, the winners of the Halifax regatta, are firmly supported by that class of men who are regular believers in public form; but, although I cannot help admiring the sharp, quick sweep of their stroke, I fancy they will have harder work than they anticipate. There is one thing certain, that if they wish to back themselves they can get all the betting they want, as America will go it strong are the WARD brothers and the Coulter-Biglin crew. The friends of the Pittsburg crew have not yet arrived, or I fancy we should have heard more talk about them. They are a fine-looking crew, well put together, and just the neat, compact build for oarsmen, with plenty of good sinew and muscle and splendid backs. They pull cleverly together, and will not be last. The Dutchess County crew have taken their work very regularly, and attracted much attention. They are all men of herculean build and proportion, and row in a pretty heavy boat. They pull a steady thirty-seven and go very fast through the water, and should the water be rough they will give some of their antagonists considerable trouble.

Crowds of people are flocking in fast, and all the hotels are filling up rapidly. The lake was in beautiful condition yesterday afternoon, and all the crews were out. The BIGLINS were pulling on the far side, and making some good work, showing about thirty-nine to the minute. The WARD brothers and Taylor-Winship crew went over the course together, and the former did remarkably well, holding the lead throughout the spin, and finishing fresh and lively. The Taylor-Winship men looked rather blown when they came in, as if they had had all they wanted. There is every reason to believe that the race today will be one of the finest ever rowed. The Renforth crew are all doing well and in excellent condition, and they feel confident that they will retrieve the position they lost in the Halifax regatta. Dr. UNDERWOOD sold pools at the Grand Union during the evening, which averaged as follows: Taylor and Winship, 150, 250, 310; Ward brothers, 70, 100, 150; Biglin and Coulter, 50, 130, 150; Renforth crew, 60, 80, 180; McKee crew, Dutchess County crew, 20, 30, 30. All the New-York sports were betting on the Ward brothers, Biglin crew and Renforth crew, while the Taylor-Winship men were backed by Canadians. The positions of the crews will be as follows: Renforth crew 1, Coulter and Biglin 2, Taylor and Winship 3, Dutchess County 4, Pittsburg 5, and Ward brothers 6. The race will be rowed between 4 and 5 this afternoon.

COMMODORE.

The Massachusetts State Tax on Bank Shares.

Mr. DANIEL A. GLEASON, Deputy Tax Commissioner of Massachusetts, has addressed a circular to the Assessors throughout the State, giving in detail information regarding the tax on bank shares. The Boston Journal says that he holds that the law is valid, and the Tax Commissioners' Department, acting under the advice of the Attorney-General, will be obliged, in making up their accounts with towns under the act, to charge a tax on every share in each national bank against the town or city where it is situated. If local Assessors fail to do their duty, the loss will fall upon the cities and towns where the law is violated. Last year the aggregate valuation of all the national banks in the Commonwealth was $104,000,067. After deducting amount owned by insurance companies, savings banks, &c., there remained $66,773,722 which should have been taxed in cities and towns, but $25,557,124 of this escaped taxation, which would have yielded a revenue to the State of $383,356 86. The law was amended to prevent this loss and to render the law equal in its effect. Its enforcement this year will bring this additional amount of taxable property within the reach of the Assessors. Mr. GLEASON states that this amount is one-eighth part of the State tax, and about one-fiftieth part of the whole amount raised in the State by local taxation; or, as stated in another way, of every $500 of tax paid in cities and towns in 1870, $10 was paid to make up the share due from bank stock that escaped taxation.

GENERAL POLITICAL MATTERS.

The Maine Campaign—Democratic Strategy—An Attempt to Catch the Republicans Napping.

A good deal of excitement has been caused in Maine by the discovery of the fact that secret letters, written by the Democratic candidate for Governor, and the Chairman of the Democratic State Central Committee, are being distributed. The election takes place on Monday, and the intention was to distribute these letters quietly in the night time, beginning on Thursday evening after all the weekly newspapers in the State had gone to press, and detection and exposure thus guarded against. The trick is generally regarded as an unworthy one, and among the intelligent thinking voters of Maine will work serious injury to the Democratic leaders who have stooped to it. The letters are as follows:

[Strictly Private.]

BANGOR, Sept. 4, 1871.

DEAR SIR: I send you with this, a package of letters from our candidate for Governor, to the active Democrats in your town. Such as are not already addressed, you will please have addressed before delivery.

The letters contain matters of great importance to the Democracy of Maine. I therefore earnestly desire you to retain this package unbroken until Thursday night, Sept. 7; then open it and take each letter to the party to whom it is addressed in the evening. Go to each man's house; read it over with him, and press upon each the necessity of going to work to get out our full vote. Use great caution, that your movements need not be known to the enemy.

If we get out our full vote, we are sure to win.

Yours, &c.,

JAMES H. BUTLER,

Chairman Democratic State Committee.

OFFICE OF C. P. KIMBALL, MANUFACTURER OF FINE CARRIAGES AND SLEIGHS, PORTLAND, Sept. 4, 1871.

[Private and Personal.]

MY DEAR SIR: All with whom I have consulted fully agree that, with the general apathy everywhere prevailing in the ranks of the Radical Party in Maine, it is safe to assume they will not throw more than forty-five to forty-seven thousand votes this Fall.

We have in Maine not less than sixty thousand Democratic votes.

In 1868 we threw between fifty-six and fifty-seven thousand votes, hence it is plain to see that we have only quietly to bring out our own vote this year to secure a brilliant triumph.

Victory is certainly within our reach, and I appeal to you personally, in behalf of the Democracy of Maine, (as I shall to active and energetic Democrats in every town in the State) to quietly and cautiously adopt means at once to make sure that every Democrat in your town is at the polls.

I need not remind you that a victory in Maine at this time would send great joy to the friends of constitutional liberty all over our beloved country, and insure us Pennsylvania and Ohio in October, as well as a glorious national victory in 1872.

This result ought surely to be enough to make every patriotic Democrat in Maine buckle on his armor and work with a will.

I therefore trust you will lose no time in seeing other active Democrats in your town, that all may act in harmony together in the good cause.

If you will do this I am quite sure victory will crown your patriotic efforts.

Let the watchword be, "On to duty." "One day for my country."

Yours with esteem,

CHARLES P. KIMBALL.

Butler's Opposition to Gilt.

In his speech in Lynn, Mass., Gen. BUTLER said: "Sweep away the gilding and upholstering from your car, the gold and silver lettering, mirrors and paintings. Give us plain, substantial, comfortable cars, and put the price of the gilding, the mirrors and upholstering into the salaries of the fireman, the brakeman, the conductor and the engine-driver." To which the Boston Journal responds: "This is a very cheap kind of demagogism. It is too transparent to deceive sensible voters. When BUTLER becomes Governor, we are to be deprived even of cushioned seats in our railroad-cars, and to gratify his plain Democratic habits we are to come down to the hard pan. What will the mechanics say to a proposition which would take the bread from thousands who find employment in ornamenting, upholstering and beautifying cars? BUTLER is certainly a labor reformer with a vengeance. It is probable that these mechanics would say, 'Sweep away your mirrors and pictures from your princely residence, Gen. BUTLER. Sell your upholstered easy chairs and gold mountings on your costly equipage, send your rosewood furniture to auction, sit on hard-bottomed chairs and eat from plain deal tables as we do, and then by the saving you will be able to pay your coachman, your cook, your second girl, your laundry-maid, your gardener and your other servants much larger salaries than you do at present.'"

The Missouri Ex-Confederate Reunion—Letter from Gov. Brown.

Gov. B. GRATZ BROWN, of Missouri, was invited to attend the recent reunion of Ex-Confederate soldiers in Randolph, Roanoke County, at which Ex-Gov. HUMPHREYS made the speech so remarkable for its temperate and conciliatory tone, which has since been published in the TIMES. To the invitation Gov. BROWN replied as follows:

STATE OF MISSOURI, EXECUTIVE DEPARTMENT,
CITY OF JEFFERSON, Aug. 19, 1871.

J. W. Robertson, Esq., Fayette, Mo.:

DEAR SIR: I have received your kind invitation on behalf of the Committee of Arrangements to attend the banquet to be given to the ex-confederates of Missouri, on the occasion of the Fair at Roanoke, on the 23d instant. I regret that engagements previously made will probably prevent my being with you. I had promised to welcome the delegates to the National Teachers' Association, at St. Louis, next week, and have other pressing engagements. You may be assured of the gratification with which I witness every expression of that happy reconciliation which is now uniting those who have differed so honestly and so widely in the past. The commingling of the Ex-Confederates with the general community under the auspices of a festival commemorating our progress in agriculture, and in all the departments of peaceful industry, must be most happy in its results. In Missouri the great crisis of our national history found its earliest expression and its completest development. May such gatherings as yours snow to the nation that Missourians are now the first to bury forever their griefs and resentments, and to unite hopefully in our common American citizenship.

I remain very respectfully,

B. GRATZ BROWN.

Public Meeting in Orangeburg, S. C.—Speech of Judge Hoge.

A large number of citizens of Orangeburg, S. C., and vicinity, met on the 4th inst., for the purpose of considering the recent Kuklux demonstrations there. The meeting was called by the Republican Executive Committee for the county, and was addressed by Judge HOGE. From his speech, as reported in the Columbia Union, we quote the following:

"I am not here today to excite the public mind. I don't believe in excitement. I think it would be better if our elections and their attending excitement should come around at longer intervals. Yet when 150 armed and disguised men enter a quiet town at midnight, with purposes, which we cannot believe are good, it is but right that we should meet and demand from every honest man, irrespective of party, what it means. What is this organization? There is no order on the face of the earth, which has in view a good purpose, that requires men to meet only at the dead hour of night, clothe themselves in sheets and masks, and ride through the quiet towns to the terror of the inhabitants. Fortunately, in Orangeburg, there was no blood shed. There were, however, notices posted upon the public offices threatening 'carpet-baggers, scallawags and niggers' with death and the lash. They declare that 'honest men must rule.' Did you ever hear of an honest man doing an honest and lawful act, covering his face with a mask, and riding a horse covered with white sheets? These men cover their faces and select the time for their hellish deeds when all other criminals work. As I have said, no murder has been committed here, but they will murder. In the counties of York, Fairfield, Chester, Newberry, Abbeville, Spartanburg and Union, this organization has been carrying on their atrocious deeds of blood and darkness. I myself witnessed and examined six persons brought from Spartanburg. I was unable to count the number of stripes they had received. They were literally covered with stripes; almost flayed alive. Words cannot express the anguish of their sufferings. If they do this in Spartanburg, they will do similar deeds in Orangeburg. We are told that their mission is to prevent the sale of stolen cotton. If so, why the necessity of hiding their faces, of coming at midnight and of breathing out threatenings against the public officers? If their real object was to prevent thieving, they would have come in the bright light of day, and then they would have been assisted by every honest man in Orangeburg.

The Republican Party is charged with fostering dishonesty. There is no doubt that there are dishonest men in that party; but are there not likewise dishonest men in the Democratic Party? All parties have their share of dishonesty. There may be dishonest men in the Legislature. I don't propose to defend any of these, and will not give them my support. The people have a remedy for all this, which is plain, adequate and complete. Not in midnight assassination, not by burnings and stripes. You can't remedy it by killing colored men, or by abusing and ill-treating them. If the object of this Klan is to kill, let them take the thieves, but let alone the innocent man, whose only crime is fealty to the party which gave him freedom. But, no matter what may be a man's crime, it is no just cause for his murder. There is no excuse for going into a man's house at night, taking him out from his family and brutally murdering him. If any of the Democratic Party know of any dishonest act done by officials, let them go to the Grand Jury, which is the most terrible engine that can be brought against them. And now, if there are any of this Klan within the sound of my voice, I can tell them that when they kill even a dishonest man, their crime is looked upon by the Courts here below, and that higher Tribunal above, as a foul and bloody murder. My fellow-citizens, let me advise you to call upon Gov. SCOTT for protection. It is his duty to afford it; but my friends, I am almost doubtful if that duty will be performed. If he does refuse, call on the President of the United States. Gen. GRANT will see that the laws are thoroughly executed. Those laws will protect you."

The Chicago Times on the Tammany Frauds.

The Chicago Times, a leading Democratic journal, devotes much space to the consideration of the tax-payers' meeting in this City on Monday night. It says:

"It is very plain that the people of New-York City are in earnest in their resolution to overthrow the 'Tammany thieves.' It is one of the most encouraging indications of the time. For while it is most likely that many foolish persons will be persuaded by miserable demagogues that the misrule of Tammany is a result of the fact that Tammany is not a Ring composed wholly of Republican thieves, the more thoughtful will not fail to discover the fact that the real cause of all the misrule is not that the thieves call themselves by a particular party name, but that, whatever their name, they are able to control the machinery of Government by the power of the party caucus. King Caucus is the real offender, and the events in New-York can hardly fail to open the eyes of thoughtful men to this most important fact. The only possible road to durable reform is that which leads to the permanent decheance of King Caucus. This is what the American people must, sooner or later, learn."

Another Democratic Paper on the Frauds.

The St. Louis Republican, too, which vies with the Chicago Times for the position of leading Democratic journal in that section of the country, has at length realized that there "has been corruption, foul, horrible corruption," in the Municipal Government of New-York, and that the affairs of the Metropolis "have been grossly and criminally mismanaged." In Wednesday's issue it says:

"For our part, we rejoice to see the movement referred to in our dispatches of yesterday and this morning, relative to a full investigation of the affairs of the principal City of the Union. Nothing less or more than a complete and detailed exhibit of receipts and expenditures is demanded. The demand is reasonable and just, and should be enforced until the balance sheet is made perfectly clear, let guilt, negligence or incapacity be fixed upon whomsoever it will. The Democracy, we are sure, want to uphold no criminal, want to shield no plunderer, by reason of his claiming connection with that party. It is, we hold, an honest party, whatever may be the character of some who happen to get into official station through its power. The masses, at least, demand honesty and economy, and they mean to see that those they elevate shall come up to this standard or be visited with scorn and condemnation as the least of their punishments. Let the people of both existing political parties take to themselves the lesson which these New-York exposures teach, and that is, that a blind partisan subservience is dangerous to their rights, liberties and possessions. They have it in their power—for the people are the only sovereigns—to require political organizations to keep aloof from plundering rings and grasping combinations. The people, it is true, may be deceived relative to this or that candidate for office; but so long as they continue to vote for the party candidate solely 'because he is the nominee,' and without reference to his mental and moral fitness, just so long will there be the temptation to corruption on the part of public servants. If a peculator may make a whole party responsible for his individual acts by obtaining their silence 'for the sake of the party' when he steals, or when there is good reason to believe he means to plunder, the condition of the political atmosphere is not healthy, and it greatly needs purification. We believe this New-York development has not come a day too soon for its effect upon other cities, and for its solemn warning to demagogues and leeches of both parties."

The Herald and the Ring.

From the Springfield Republican, Sept. 6.

The attitude of the New-York Herald with reference to the Anti-Tammany movement would be very amusing if it were not so very pitiable. It is utterly at a loss what to do, and so it does nothing. A natural emotion of gratitude, blending the lively recollection of past favors with the livelier sense of favors to come, holds it back, as yet, from turning upon its benefactors of the Ring in this hour of their extremity. But, on the other hand, the instinct of self-preservation is too strong to allow it to face the gale of popular indignation which is now blowing, and so it crouches under cover and silently awaits the event. Undoubtedly, the meeting of Monday night was the most important ever held in New-York. Yet the Herald dismisses it with exactly eight lines and a half of editorial comment, in which the reader is informed that the meeting was "highly respectable and substantial," that such and such men made speeches, and that a Committee was appointed to investigate the "alleged charges." This is absolutely all that a great Metropolitan journal had to say on the morning after one of the most momentous political events of the century. Looking at it simply as journalists, we must say that the spectacle of such timidity in such a quarter is not a pleasing one. Fortunately, it is one which is not often presented by an American newspaper. The Press of this country has its besetting sins, and grave enough some of them are, too,—but a cold-blooded, calculating cowardliness has not hitherto been reckoned among the number.

Death of a Journalist.

Mr. DANIEL KANE O'DONNEL, in former years connected with the New-York Press, breathed his last yesterday morning, at his residence in Thirteenth-street, Philadelphia. He was a graduate of Girard College, and began his career as a compositor, distinguishing himself by many poems full of a fresh and tender fancy, which he contributed in his hours of leisure from the labors of the case. Subsequently he connected himself with the Press, edited by Mr. FORNEY, and during the war accompanied Gen. SHERMAN's army as a special correspondent. With the return of peace Mr. O'DONNEL came to this City and became an attaché of the Tribune, and was dispatched to Mexico, from which country he wrote many admirable letters. He was the author of many popular songs, among them "Rock Me to Sleep, Mother," the "Song of Iron," and others less widely known. He was in the thirty-second year of his age.

The Communists—Gen. Rossel Condemned to Death—The Budget—Relations with Italy.

PARIS, Sept. 8.—The proposals of the Lower California Company to transport the Communist prisoners and form a colony with them on the Pacific have been referred to a committee, which will soon make a report on the scheme.

The trial of Gen. ROSSEL before the Court-martial terminated in conviction. The prisoner has been sentenced to military degradation and death. It is stated that M. GAMBETTA has undertaken the defense in the case of two members of the Press at the coming Charente Assizes. The Budget Committee presented their report to the Assembly. The estimated expenses for the fiscal year are as follows: Interest on the public debt, 723,000,000 francs; arrears and deficits, 673,000,000 francs; ordinary expenditures, 2,500,000,000 francs; departmental expenditures, 300,000,000 francs.

The Journal des Débats of today states that the differences between the French and Italian Governments are due to the interference of a delegate of the French Legation with the municipal envoys of the Italian Government who were engaged in the work of surveying a Roman convent. It proves that the delegate in question belonged to the Vatican Legation instead of that of the Italian Court, and a satisfactory settlement of the difficulty is expected.

The Seat of Government to Continue at Versailles.

VERSAILLES, Sept. 8.—The excited debate on Deputy RAVINEL's bill, which lasted four days, closed this evening. The bill had assumed the form of a compromise, providing for the continuance of the Assembly at Versailles and the removal of the Ministerial Departments to Paris. But the Government opposed the paragraph proposing the transfer of the Ministries, and it was rejected. The bill as finally amended was adopted.

Foreign Military Officers Observing the Army Movements—The Strikes—Escape of Mr. Butt from the Irish Bailiffs—The Wigan Mining Disaster.

LONDON, Sept. 8.—Field Marshal VON BLUMENTHAL and Count VON ALTEN have arrived in London as witnesses on behalf of the German Government of the Autumn manœuvres of the British Army in Berkshire. Each of the nations of Europe has, it appears, been invited to send two military officers to observe the evolutions of the troops. Right Hon. GEORGE T. GOSCHEN, in a speech in reply to a toast at the cutlers feast at Sheffield last evening, uttered a protest against the prevalent habit of self-depreciation on the part of Englishmen.

One hundred and twenty Norwegian engineers have arrived at Newcastle-on-Tyne. The colliers in the Walton district are to receive an advance in wages of ten per cent.

The Cork papers of today say that Mr. BUTT, the "home rule" candidate for Parliament from Limerick, who was arrested for debt, has escaped from the custody of the bailiffs.

Communication has been effected with the imprisoned miners at Wigan. The dead body of one of the victims has been brought to the surface, and the others are known to be in so precarious a condition that hardly a hope is entertained for the preservation of any of their lives.

GENERAL EUROPEAN NEWS.

End of the Salzburg Meeting—Government Strength in the Reichsrath—A Monument to Prim—The New Grand Vizier.

SALZBURG, Sept. 8.—The Emperors WILLIAM and FRANCIS JOSEPH parted this morning warm friends, and the former has left for Munich, where he visits the King of Bavaria.

VIENNA, Sept. 8.—The Moravian elections give the Government a two-thirds majority in the new House, for the realization of the policy of the equality of all Austrian nationalities. The Government will probably have a large majority in the newly-elected Reichsrath.

MADRID, Sept. 8.—King AMADEUS has started from Valencia for Tortosa. Subscriptions to the amount of £3,750 sterling have been raised in Spain for the purpose of erecting a monument to Marshal PRIM.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 8.—An official dispatch from Constantinople says that MAHMOUD PASHA has been appointed Grand Vizier to succeed ALI KIBRASLI PASHA. He was formerly the Governor of Smyrna, but recently Secretary of the Navy. BLACQUE BEY, the Turkish Minister, has returned with his family to Washington, after an absence of seventeen months in his own country. BOLTAZZI EFFENDI, the Secretary of the Legation, therefore ceased to be Chargé d'Affaires, the duties of which position he creditably and satisfactorily discharged during that period, and whose relations to this Government were of the most agreeable character.

The Catholic Conclave at Fulda—The German Ecclesiastical Policy to be Ignored—Death of a Spanish Ex-Premier in Poverty.

LONDON, Sept. 8.—The Conclave at Fulda has determined to take decisive steps against the aggressive policy of Dr. VON MUHLER, Prussian Minister of Ecclesiastical Affairs. A joint resolution has been adopted to disregard his decrees and petition the Reichstag and the Emperor WILLIAM for redress. The Bishops are departing.

GONZALES BRAVO, Ex-Prime Minister of Spain, died suddenly at Biarritz in comparative poverty. Don CARLOS orders his adherents to avail themselves of the amnesty and return to Spain. Bayonne is crowded with returning refugees.

It is announced from Constantinople that MAHMOUD PASHA will succeed ALI PASHA as Grand Vizier, and that DJIMIL PASHA will become Minister of Foreign Affairs.

The Weather in Paris—Metropolitan Pictures—The Ways of the Flaneur—The National Guard—Journalism in the Capital—The Case of M. Ranc—About the Theatres.

From Our Own Correspondent.

PARIS, Tuesday, Aug. 22, 1871.

For two weeks the weather has been excessively hot, and life upon the asphalte of Paris has been almost insupportable. The nights are very short, daylight appearing before 3 o'clock, and from that hour to 8 o'clock one can work in tolerable comfort. The evenings are close and heavy, and hard upon those who are subject to headaches. During the middle of the day the sun shines with terrific fierceness, its rays being disagreeably reflected from the show-windows and from the bits of mica in the pavements. Until dark the western side of the boulevards is nearly deserted; but toward 8 o'clock the crowd commences to gather, the chairs in front of the cafés are gradually filled, and from that hour the panorama of Paris life begins to unfold. For hours the habitués of the boulevards march up and down, from the New Opera to Brébant's, or the Café Madrid, at the corner of the Rue du Faubourg Montmartre, and from 8 to 11 o'clock clerks and business men, and the students of the quarter, who have been sweltering all day at their work, sit over a single glass of beer or an ice to "enjoy the fresh" and to watch the passing crowd. A foreigner, or, I should say, one belonging to none of the Latin races, never ceased to be amazed at this habit. To us it seems an inexcusable waste of time. For an hour's amusement or recreation it is interesting, beyond all doubt, but in the midst of so many treasures of art and literature, it passes our comprehension that thousands of men, young and old, can linger away three-fourths of their time about the passage Jouffroy, or at the doors of the boulevard cafés. Yet such is the case. Day after day we see the same figures, the same worn and weary faces, until we come to fancy that we know by sight all the poseurs of Paris, and can name the haunts of anyone after a graphic word or two of description. To most of us—to the groups of cultivated people, I mean to say—these men are designated by well known peculiarities. There's "green-cravat," says a friend, and without raising your eyes you know at once the figure he means; while "Pinchbeck and Onions" will suggest to thousands the Jewish figure hanging about the opera or the betting offices, who is never seen without a profusion of cheap jewelry or a horrible smell of garlic. How long these men have led the same existence no one knows, nor can we form an idea of the number of years that old man has fancied himself smart in a bright green scarf or cravat. Many of the faces which were once familiar to us have disappeared; many whom we fancied in the grave are beginning to return to their accustomed haunts; but in the faces of all there is an unwonted weariness, and the seediness of their apparel shows us how hard the times are found under the present prices for all things which, to such men, makes life desirable. The true flaneur has not much altered. Although he lost "enormously by the war," like the people in my section of Virginia, who never had anything to lose, his little revenue is still sufficient to keep him in clothes and to pay his bill at a cheap restaurant. But the flaneur season has not yet come. Not one of this class dare be seen upon the boulevards before the middle of September, at which time they will tell you tales of life at some watering place, where, as a general thing, they had passed one whole afternoon, returning by the half-price excursion-train. During this hot August weather one is not greatly inclined to the study of character, and I can only touch a point here and there; but it is the variety of characters, the infinite number of curious types, which constitute one of the main charms of Paris. The sensual charms of the French Capital soon tire a man of thirty years, who sees how false and hollow they are, and who looks almost with pity upon the young enthusiast just beginning his career. Ah! if he only knew what experience has taught us, what a world of ennui he might save himself.

THE NATIONAL GUARD.

In one of my letters, some time before any one began to speak of the National Guard, I condemned that institution as one which had been found worse than useless in time of peace, and which had never rendered service in time of war that could not have been better done by regular troops. I thought that I was a little severe upon "Lafayette's Militia," but my words were mild compared with those used by Gen. CHANZY, in his report to the Chamber. M. THIERS is strongly opposed to the dissolution of that body of "thinking bayonets." He sustained it under the Empire, as well as the system of substitutes in the army, and now he finds himself in a dilemma. He must go back upon himself, and acknowledge that he was wrong in attacking the laws of the Empire, or he must oppose the present sentiment of the Assembly and the country. He has chosen to do the latter. For the moment public opinion runs very strong upon the adoption of the Prussian military system, or obligatory service on the part of all citizens between the ages of twenty and forty years. The first consequences of this system is to render the National Guard an absurdity or a danger; for, were it kept in existence, its ranks would become the refuge of all who wished to escape compulsory service in the army. On Saturday, Gen. CHANZY reported a proposition for its dissolution and disarmament, and this Republican officer did not mince words in speaking of it. After reading the history of French revolutions I wonder how any one can sustain this corps of "Cave Guards" as they delight to call themselves. The first 12,000 were raised precisely like Flourens' Belleville battalion during the war, composed of turbulent men, ignorant enough to faire peur, and too cowardly or too disorderly to enter the regular army. Held together by the power of wine, this battalion was petted by its leaders, who kept it for invasions of the palaces or the Chamber, or for raising a riot in the streets. As LAFAYETTE did not dare to suppress this band, he tried to reorganize it after our militia, but the first elements of success—patriotism and honesty, were entirely wanting. From that day out, the National Guard has been the first to join in scenes of disorder. It was first and foremost in the troubles of 1830, 1848 and in all troubles since: and it was the members of this force that invaded the Corps Legislatif on the 4th of September to overthrow the Empire, turning again on the 18th of March upon the Republic it had made. Everywhere we see its destructive, disorderly work. It was denounced by MIRABEAU himself. It was proud of having prevented the rescue of LOUIS XVI., proud of its barricades in '48, proud of its struggle against the army in the streets of Paris and at Père la Chaise. But its days are ended, and in destroying it the Assembly will have destroyed one of the main causes of civil troubles in France. Lyons and Marseilles threaten to resist disarmament, and the extreme Republicans tacitly approve the attitude—a fact which shows that the maintenance of order is not the chief merit, in their eyes, of the National Guard.

THE PARIS PRESS.

You will perceive sooner or later that I am continually running against the Paris Press, and a long residence has not at all reconciled me to it. Some of its customs are simply absurd. Being run hard for a paragraph, a writer invents a bit of slander against the first man at hand, and "if it is not true let him come out and deny it." If he does so, the writer confesses that he was misinformed, and is dreadfully astonished if this is not taken as an ample reparation for a scandal which can never be explained. One of those writers, in search of a subject, happened to drop his eye upon one of the servants of the Chinese Ambassador, and found him a little seedy. Perhaps he has not changed his gown since his comrade fell from a three-story window and broke his neck. Taking this domestic for the Ambassador himself, the "journalist" invented a tale about the poverty of the Ambassador, and how the "lot of them" were so pressed for money that they were trying to make small loans, and I am not sure but the Chinaman had sent his watch and spoons to "his uncle." At any rate they were living in misery and penury. This is pretty good, especially since the private fortune of the Chief is valued at twenty-five millions, and since he has unlimited credit with M. THRY-HERARD, the Oriental banker. This story appeared just as the queues of these "children of the sun" were following their owners on board the English steamer. If the author is not haunted by an enormous pig-tail, at least he ought to be so haunted, but he says that if he was badly informed, let the "Mandarin come out and say so."

THE CASE OF M. RANC.

M. RANC has departed this life—Paris life, I mean—and fled to parts unknown. The Patrie was too hard upon him. Day after day that journal laid M. RANC's crime before the people and demanded his arrest. The articles were all caustic, clever, and telling. Gen. DE CISSEY said that M. RANC was not arrested because his name was not on the list, and "nobody thought of him;" but this the Patrie would not accept, and it finally threatened to show up the Government beside M. RANC unless the latter was arrested. An order for his arrest was made out, and at the same time M. RANC was furnished with a passport and told to make all possible haste out of France. He did so, and is safe in England. And now what is the explanation of this mystery? He was, two days longer in the Commune than JOURDE, and signed more and worse decrees. Why is M. RANC left free, and JOURDE put on trial for his life? The Soir, generally pretty well informed, says that M. RANC was able to render M. THIERS and the Assembly some kind of service, by which we are led to infer that M. RANC was one of the men trying to sell the Commune who were in communication with M. THIERS.

THEATRICAL AFFAIRS.

Notwithstanding the extraordinary heat the theatres, or some of them, continue to keep open and to keep up the amusements of the season. This evening the Opera Comique gives a representation, under the patronage of Mme. THIERS, for the benefit of the orphans of the war. The Gymnase is giving "Marceline," a new piece, and THERESA is still singing in the "Chatte Blanche" at the Gaité. The thermometer has no effect whatever upon the Cirque, with its "equestrian exercises," nor upon the prestidigitation—a heavy word for August weather—of CLEVERMAN, the conjuror.

LAKE GEORGE.

The Evening's Excitement—Crowd of Visitors—Some Traditions—Some Curious Characters—Fishing, &c.—Staging as a Fine Art—Barnum on the Rampage—Notes by the Way.

From Our Own Correspondent.

CROSBY SIDE, Lake George,
Sunday, Sept. 3, 1871.

Never before, since the shores of this peaceful lake were first invaded by the ruthless bands of Summer tourists, have so many visitors been registered here as this Summer. From the North and from the South, from the East and West, and from all the imaginary points of the compass, by stage, steamer and carriage, they come by the hundred, to feast their eyes on the natural beauties of this favored spot. The landlords chuckle, and the whole tribe of boatmen, fishermen, steam-boat captains, waiters, porters et id hoc omne genus, wash their hands in imaginary "wash-bowls," raise their fees and purchase new bank-books. For now is the harvest season and a long Winter of consumption follows close upon the laying in of stores. And so they reap and reap, and count all as gain that falls under the repeated cuts of their sharp sickles. A philosophic friend says this is all right, they but imitate others. They save in Summer to spend in Winter, while their victims save in Winter to spend in Summer. It is but a carrying out of the laws of nature, and the philosopher warms to his subject, becomes eloquent in urging the necessity, nay, the duty, that is incumbent on us all of giving freely and submitting to impositions, &c.; but unfortunately the modern Socrates is interrupted: "Please, Sir, twenty-five cents for brushing yer down!" Now is philosophy tested! Can it be that a speck of dust has lodged on that immaculate broadcloth? Philosophy yields. "Get out, you black rascal," and human nature asserts itself.

The excitements here are two, the arrival of the stages at noon, and the arrival of the steamer from Ticonderoga at night. Of these two sensations, the last is the greatest. About 7½ all eyes are turned down the lake, looking for the lights of the steamer. Then bets are made as to her passengers. Her lights are in sight. Mr. ROESSLE stands on his piazza expectant, eager, sanguine. There go the whistles; one long one for every ten, and one short one for every five, that is the signal code—160 passengers. Boom, goes the cannon, and as the boat comes in at the dock the band gives them a greeting with all its brassy power. Then comes a scene that baffles description. Up the steep hill, through the beautiful grounds, not stopping to feed the artificial swans, rushes the crowd of puffing fat men, panting thin men, swearing tall men and perspiring short men, for the rule here is, (nominally, at least,) "first come, first served." The crowd on the piazza opens; "two to one on Daniel Lambert," shouts an enthusiastic youth, as he sees the rotund figure of a member of the Fat Men's Association a few feet in advance of the crowd. But no! At the step Lambert slips and falls, and the living skeleton wrests from him the laurel wreath, bounds by him, saluted by the cheers of the crowd. On come the rest, falling into a long line like the seekers of reserved seats at the opera, and the last one gets his "cot in the parlor" just in time to receive a plate of ice-cream, which is served out every night to all the guests of the Fort William Henry. And then music begins; votaries of the "light fantastic" spin around the parlor, and the day's excitement is over.

In my last I alluded to the tradition connected with Tea Island, without, however, vouching for its accuracy. Nearly all the other islands, 364 in number, have some similar story to render them objects of interest. Diamond Island, celebrated for its quartz crystals, centipedes and, in old times, for its rattlesnakes, was once used by BURGOYNE as a military depot, and of it SILLIMAN said, in 1819: "There is a solitary, miserable cottage upon this island, from which we saw smoke ascending; a woman who lives in it is facetiously called 'the Lady of the Lake,' but probably no Malcolm Græme and Roderick Dhu will ever contend on her account." Only the ruins of the cottage now remain. Then comes Long Island, where ROGES encamped after his defeat by the French. Then in quick succession, the Three Sisters, Recluse Island, Dome Island, Hog Island, Fourteen-mile Island, and many more gifted with names equally appropriate. The legend connected with Hog Island would be exceedingly interesting and worth listening to, but I have never heard it.

There are some curious characters up here. One of these is the jolly Captain of the steam-yacht Ganouskie. For thirty-five years he has navigated the waters of Lake George, and can tell wonders, real and imaginary, of every foot of the lake. Asking him about the sinking of Recluse Island in 1868, he said: "Yes; it went down in eighty feet of water." "Well, but Captain, do you believe it?" "Humph! it was in the newspapers; is not that enough?" "No, not at all; what do you know about it?" "Well, I'll tell you. When I went away in the Spring that island was thar; when I came back in the Fall, that island was thar, blue-roofed buildings and all. Where do you git off, Sir?" The Captain is musical, and few visitors here but have heard his singing of "The Sword of Bunker Hill;" but the Captain will insert a Tyrolean warble among the high notes, with a strong contempt for all such trifles as time or tune. Then at the Narrows he has a set speech: "Here, ladies and gentlemen, this is the Narrows. There are here one hundred islands within the space of two miles—which will account for the fine bracing atmosphere." The Captain is a stanch old patriot, and will improvise words for a patriotic chorus with the most alarming rapidity. Jolly, genial Captain, may your shadow never grow less. Another character is the Captain of the little steam pleasure boat, the Owl, familiarly known as "LEE HARRIS." Many is the pleasant time I have had on his stanch little steamer. LEE was for many years an Adirondack guide, and one of the best known of the guides, facile princeps, &c. While out shooting one day, a gentleman with him mistook one of LEE's eyes for a bird, and peppered him with buckshot. A glass eye had to be substituted for the natural organ, and the coolness with which, without a moment's warning, LEE will put his finger in his eye, is astonishing to the uninitiated. LEE is a tip-top companion, always merry, full of fun, strictly temperate, and one who always looks after the comfort of the ladies. He took a party of six out fishing a day or two ago, and by virtue of some mysterious power over the finny tribe, he had but to touch a line, and the remark followed: "Pull up your line young lady, there is a fish on it;" and there always was. One hundred and forty fish was the result of our afternoon's sport, and to a young lady from New-York belongs the honor of having caught the largest number.

But I must bring my letter to a close. The scramble for top seats on the stages is another daily excitement. Tumbling one over another, climbing up on wheels or ladders, mounting the coach on the front, rear or flank, or using the shoulders of the nearest gentleman, up they climb, ladies and gentlemen mixed in about equal proportions. It is a wonder that some are not hurt in this daily gymnastic exhibition. The other day P. T. BARNUM arrived, and the landlord of the Fort William Henry, in order to do honor to his illustrious guest, ordered the firing of one gun. Two stages were standing unloading luggage, and fortunately empty, and as the gun went off so did the horses. One of the stages, after smashing a lamp-post and doing other damage, plunged down the ravine or ditch of the old fort, and brought up with one of the "leaders" lying under the stage and the other standing alongside. There was some tall swearing at that brass cannon, but damages were repaired and off they went as though nothing had happened. But the stage proprietor wants at least two days' notice before BARNUM arrives again.

WORSHIP IN THE WOODS.

Camp-Meeting at Epping, N. H.—A Glance at the Ground—Pleasant Fancies of the Dwellers—Order Supreme.

From Our Own Correspondent.

GREENLAND, N. H., Friday, Sept. 1, 1871.

The annual Methodist camp-meeting, for this part of New-Hampshire, began on Monday last to continue for one week, and yesterday being considered the principal day in the week's programme, I drove over to Epping, a distance of nine miles from here, where the regular camp-ground of the society is located, within about a quarter of a mile of the Concord and Portsmouth Railroad. The drive was an exceedingly pleasant one, through very pretty and characteristic New-England scenery; past Stratham Hill, of local fame as being the highest point of land in this immediate region, and the road along the base of which gives splendid glimpses of the great bay, and a wide twenty miles' view of the valley in which it lies; through the flourishing town of South Newmarket, along the hard and well-graded New-England roads, bordered by their everlasting stone fences, and garnished at proper intervals by the farm dwellings of immaculate whiteness, with the inevitable long row of out-houses and ample barns. We fell in with occasional carriages while yet some miles from the camp-ground; as we neared it the railroad whistle gave notice of the arrival of one of the many special trains, run for the benefit of the meeting, and soon we descried the road filled with people making their way from the depot to the grounds, some in variously assorted vehicles that ply for the accommodation of passengers, some trudging sturdily along on foot, their arms piled with wrappings, and usually bearing a well-stuffed carpet-bag in addition. The approach to the grounds was through an ample open pasture-ground, fringed on all sides by a motley collection of horses and vehicles, while occasional clumps of trees were gay with busy groups and picturesquely disposed lunching parties.

A SYLVAN THEATRE.

The camping-ground proper was separated from this open field by a well-whitened paling, having gates or passage-ways at intervals, and which had an abundant embellishment in the mattresses, blankets and patchwork quilts spread in the morning sun to dry out the dampness caught in the previous night's rain. The thick woods left but little of the actual camp to be seen; but entering the inclosure, the visitor found himself at once in the very midst thereof. Perhaps I can best convey an impression of the scene by saying that the camp lies upon a gradually-sloping hill-side, covered with a dense and tall growth of hemlock and beech, around the base of which winds a very pretty brook. On this hill-side, some thirty-five to forty large tents have been disposed in a compact circle perhaps 150 yards in diameter; just inside the line of tents is a broad promenade around the entire circle, and the whole of the remaining space is provided with very comfortable seats of rough boards. The grand stand is placed near the bottom of the slope, facing up hill, the whole thus forming a vast amphitheatre, in which four to five thousand people might, I should think, be comfortably seated, and where each pair of eyes can take in the whole scene, and where the whole multitude might hear a good, loud-voiced speaker. Over this space the trees stand quite thickly, so as to make an almost impenetrable shade, and I do not remember ever to have seen a forest auditorium, where the regular and sloping rows of seats, the inclosing circle of tents, and the dense canopy of forest leaves, conveyed so vivid an impression of a vast artificial hall. Immense box-lanterns, holding a number of oil lamps each, have been hung among the trees, and afford a perfect illumination for the evening services. Close by the side of this main circle, in a little ravine, is that prime need of all woodland gatherings—a fine spring—giving an abundance of pure water to the ever-coming troops of drinkers. The camp then spreads out to the right and left, there being several concentric streets cut by others radiating at right angles, on and along which the tents have been located over the slope and the brow of the hill-side. But little has been done to improve these little streets, for they are rather Lilliputian in width, except to locate the tents as nearly in a right line as was consistent with the policy of leaving all the trees and even saplings standing.

CIVILIZATION INVADING THE CAMP.

The word tents must be read with a qualification; there are indeed many of these literal canvas dwellings; but the more striking feature of the camp are the more permanent structures of pine boards with which Yankee ingenuity is rapidly displacing them. A camp-ground tent in the most recent parlance, means a little gothic box, say 10 by 15 feet, two stories high, (how they get upstairs is still a mystery,) divided into two chambers by partition or curtain; made of cleanly-planed boards they remain neat and inviting, even without paint. Not content with mere simple and solid usefulness, some of them break out into little architectural extravagances of bow windows, ornamental brackets, and miniature balconies. One comfort is a temptation to another; and I am led by what I see here to the philosophic reflection that a floor of boards is the line of demarkation between a tent and a house. Old-fashioned camp-meeting tents had no floors, only loose straw for a carpet, and let the superstructure be what it might, canvas or planking, it was nevertheless essentially a tent. But once get a floor, and the character of the improvised dwelling is radically changed. The floor brings a carpet, the carpet a rocking-chair, the rocking-chair a table, the table books, the books a shelf, and the shelf a vase of flowers. Once strike the right key, by means of a good floor, and you run easily up the gamut of civilized life, while a modern cooking-stove, set out in the open air behind the tent, supplies the whole kitchen orchestra complete in itself. When camp-meeting is over, these extemporized pine palaces are locked up and left standing, sometimes with their entire stock of furniture, until the next annual gathering.

THE MENAGE.

The modern touchstone of "organization" is giving camp-meetings a new lease of life. It is only a few years since the camp-ground was permanently located on its present site at Epping. The voluntary system was abandoned; the present well-chosen site, enlarged by subsequent additions to about 150 acres, was purchased by a stock company; the necessary general improvements were made under the supervision of a proper committee; lots were leased where occupants might erect tents; means of transportation and the supply of materials and provisions were organized, so that the public have very superior facilities offered them, while the management retain the perfect control of the premises and prohibit all obnoxious traffic. Under the protection thus afforded, individuals are making their personal improvements more durable, with a view to enjoy them a number of years in succession. Out of this, too, grows a new feature. Persons having their tent and furniture on the ground employ their Autumn leisure in making a preliminary picnic on the grounds, in anticipation of the regular meeting. I was informed that many of the more comfortable and well-provided looking tents had been occupied for a month past by their owners and families. When he makes it his royal pleasure, "man needs but little here below." His little box supplies him the essential needs, viz., shelter in storms and a sleeping place. As for the rest, he may boil his own coffee or board at the restaurant; and so arranged, his annual "camp" is neither troublesome nor expensive. With congenial friends and an eating-house, a railroad, a Post-office and an expressman at his very tent-door, he may, without much effort, make himself more than contented even in the heart of a piece of waste woods. This habit of the preliminary occupation of the tents is also productive of collective benefits. One is the completion and final arrangement of all the little conveniences and luxuries in the shape of carpets, tables, chairs, shelves, and so on, which experiment suggests, and the other is that the lady occupants of the tents have ample time to trick out these little forest lodges with the thousand devices of feminine embellishment, flowers, wreaths, crosses, religious mottoes, tiny moss-gardens, and other adornments, that give the camp a real holiday air for the final meeting.

A CIVILIZED COMMUNITY.

I must pay a grateful tribute to New-England order and sobriety. I saw here for the first time in my life a gathering of several thousand people from all walks of life, without a single exhibition of intoxication, of rudeness, of boisterousness, or offense to the general public in any shape. All were quiet, all were contented, all were well behaved, so far, at least, as my own observation extended.

Gen. EWING, it is said, has written a letter to a member of the Ohio Democratic Executive Committee, positively refusing to allow himself to be placed at the head of the State ticket, even in the event of McCOOK's withdrawal.

Congressman JOHN E. SEELEY, of the Twenty-fourth District, was stricken with paralysis on the 26th ult., and has since been lying helpless and unable to speak, at his home in Ovid, Seneca County. Hopes are entertained of his recovery. His age is sixty-one years.

Senator AUGUSTUS R. ELWOOD, of the Twentieth District, is a candidate for renomination. Hon. A. C. McGOWAN, who has twice represented Herkimer in the Assembly, is also a candidate for the Republican nomination. The latter's "claim" is based on the rule of rotation.

The Troy Whig favors the nomination of ISAAC V. BAKER, Jr., for Senator in the Twelfth (Rensselaer and Washington) District, and thinks he might be elected. Mr. BAKER has represented the Northern District of Washington County in the Assembly for two years.

A Tennessee paper speaks admiringly of a cane, on which are carved portraits of ANDREW JOHNSON, Gens. JACKSON, LEE, and other distinguished personages, and many rare and beautiful animals, and entertwined among them all the Lord's prayer, cut in clear, beautiful Roman letters.

A Virginia paper says the formal disavowal on the part of the Democratic National Executive Committee of responsibility for the Concession—Lost Cause Regained pamphlet, is only "another added to the thousand proofs that the Northern people are ready to believe anything to the disadvantage of the South."

The Toronto Telegraph is publishing a series of letters from a "special commissioner," intended to show the grievances under which the manufacturers and mechanics of the Welland Canal district labor by reason of the gross mismanagement in connection with that important public work.

The Hartford Times asserts that before the mangled body of MAURICE CONNELL, a young man from that city who was killed at the time of the accident on the Eastern Railroad, was taken from the shattered cars, his pockets were robbed of everything they contained, even of two pocket handkerchiefs and a penknife. It is not known precisely how much money he had on his person.

JACOB TOME, it is thought, will be the next Republican candidate for Governor of Maryland. He is a resident of Port Deposit, Cecil County, is the President of two banks and of half a dozen steam-boat and manufacturing companies, has built two churches and a school-house in Port Deposit with his own money, and is a friend to the poor of the town and county.

Among the Democrats named for the prominent places on the party State ticket are JOHN F. HUBBARD, Jr., and DIEDRICH WILLERS, Jr., for Secretary of State; WHEELER H. BRISTOL, the present incumbent, for State Treasurer; and J. THOMAS SPRIGGS and ALBERTUS PERRY, for Attorney-General. It is understood, however, that Mr. PERRY does not wish to be regarded a candidate.

Hon. IGNATIUS DONNELLY, of Minnesota, has written a long letter explaining why he took an independent course, last Fall, on the tariff question, and repudiating any affiliation with the Democratic Party. He says that he has been a Republican, and continues to be one. He will keep aloof for the present from active politics, and has declined to become a candidate for the State Senate from Dakota County.

One vote was lost by the Democrats in California thus: With considerable trouble the voter deciphered a poster announcing that certain candidates would address the inhabitants of Gilroy and vicinity, and after a moment's deep meditation exclaimed, "Vicinity! What's vicinity? I've lived hyar-abouts nigh onto fifteen years, an' thar ain't no such place; an' any party what don't know the gography of the country better nor that, can't get my vote."

An eccentric, unmarried, venerable gentleman in Newport, R. I., who has had a tomb-stone erected in readiness for his decease, (late may he return to the skies,) chanced to be in the cemetery the other day, when some ladies, strangers and inquisitive, inquired of him where to find the monument erected by the person who was not dead. He kindly pointed it out, and listened to their comments, which were not very complimentary.

They have just opened a new hotel in a Southern State capital, and one of the newspaper men who "assisted" writes: "It is a beautiful house. Amidst its bowers, its frescoed, grand, glittering parlors, the member of the Legislature, at $9 a day, can have his heaven, and listen to the music of a sixteen-string band and the voice of his nightingale, and enjoy the felicities of the only paradise that perhaps will ever be his."

Hon. CARL SCHURZ's letter accepting the invitation to speak in Nashville, Tenn., says: "While the complimentary terms in which the invitation is expressed go far beyond my merits, you are certainly right in ascribing to me an earnest desire to promote the restoration of universal peace, harmony, friendship and true brotherhood, and I shall gladly avail myself of the opportunity you have offered me to contribute my share, however little, toward the furtherance of that great end."

The Albany Evening Journal says that A. B. PRATT, referee in the matter of the Filkins estate, has decided that the accounts of WM. and F. KENNY and F. PALMER, amounting in all to $800 06, must be paid. Of the balance, Mrs. FILKINS receives $102 39, her dower interest in the surplus, after deducting counsel fees. The remaining balance goes to D. J. NORTON, assignee in bankruptcy, toward paying off claims held by FILKINS' creditors. A motion was made to disagree with the report, but Judge LEARNED denied the motion.

About 300 persons are thrown out of employment by the burning of the Wheeling Iron-works on Sunday. The works were worth about $200,000, on which there was a mortgage of $100,000, to secure a loan. There was an insurance of $26,000, which will go to the holders of the loan, so that the stockholders will suffer a total loss of their interest, except what may be represented by the ground connected with the works and the damaged machinery. The company had recently been reorganized.

The Columbus (Ga.) Sun is very much grieved that Northern radicals and others, should openly assail DAVIS, TOOMBS and STEPHENS, and through these gentlemen make an attack upon the integrity of the Democratic Party, "simply because they have refused in advance of a National Democratic Convention, to accept the position tendered by a few factionists at the North, and stultify themselves and the life-long principles of the party."

The two Republican Senatorial Committees in the Thirty-second District have united in a call for a Convention to nominate a candidate, to be held in Dunkirk, on the 4th of October, and have referred the new basis of calling future conventions about which there has been much discussion in the papers of both counties to the people to be acted upon at the primaries and the District Conventions. This action gives agreeable indication of a desire to harmonize differences in the Republican Party in the district, and to move unitedly upon the enemy's works.

The Alleged Outrage by a City Hall Official.

A clerk in one of the departments of the City Government, named GEORGE BYRNE, was yesterday brought before the Court of General Sessions, charged with committing an outrage on MARGARET FIELDING, on the 25th of July, 1870, over a year ago. She stated that on that day she went to the City Hall to inquire for Mr. WM. BURNS; the prisoner, GEORGE BYRNE, came out and said, "I am he;" she told him she was looking for an elderly man named BURNS; and he said, "I am a friend of his—come along;" he asked what was her business, and she told him she had a dead child that was buried on Hart's Island a long time before; Mr. HUMPHREYS wouldn't let her have the body, and she thought that perhaps Commissioner BURNS would let her have the body; the prisoner took her up to the Board of Aldermen's Chamber, and committed the offense charged; when she got out, there were two men standing outside the door, and when she told them her story, they only ran away; some men asked what was the matter with her, and directed her to the District-Attorney's office, and she went directly and made her complaint there.

The prisoner swore that the charge was false, and it was testified by several witnesses that the woman had previously made similar charges against two other men, with one of whom she settled for $50. The prisoner was finally acquitted. In the course of his remarks Assistant District-Attorney FELLOWS said that in two cases recently officers had gone on the stand to give evidence as to statements obtained in conversation with witnesses and prisoners, and that no officer should hold any such conversation without directions. Judge BEDFORD asked Col. FELLOWS to furnish him with the names of those officers, saying that they should be promptly discharged, and the latter promised to do so.

The Brooklyn Abortion Case—Verdict.

The Coroner's inquest touching the death of EMILY A. POST, who died at the City Hospital on Wednesday of last week, and who was supposed to have been a victim of the abortionists, Dr. PERRY and Mme. VAN BUSKIRK, was concluded yesterday, the jury rendering the following verdict:

"We find that the death of EMILY A. POST was superinduced by the brutal and inhuman treatment received at the hands of Dr. PERRY and Mme. VAN BUSKIRK, and we further find that PETER K. POST, Sr., MINERVA POST and PETER K. POST, Jr., in placing their daughter and sister in the care of known abortionists, were guilty of an unnatural outrage, evincing depraved minds, utterly regardless of natural duty."

The doctor and the Madame remain under arrest.

Probably Fatal Stabbing Assault.

On Thursday night THOMAS DEVEREUX, residing corner of Second-avenue and One Hundred and Eighth-street, became involved in a quarrel with PATRICK BOYLE, when a friend of the latter, named PATRICK McDONALD, rushed up and stabbed DEVEREUX in the abdomen, inflicting a wound which will very probably prove fatal. McDONALD and BOYLE were arrested, and were taken to the Yorkville Police Court yesterday, where Justice BIXBY held the former to await the result of injuries, and held BOYLE for examination.

American Institute Fair.

There was a good attendance of visitors at the Fair yesterday and last evening, though not so large a crowd as may be anticipated next week. The exhibition is growing in attractiveness each hour, and many of the spaces which were blank at the opening, have since been filled with articles new, novel and entertaining. Steam is now generated in patent boilers, and furnished to patent engines, which turn patent shaftings and run patent machines of all sorts and kinds, by means of several varieties of patent belting. The great feature of the exhibition, the manufacture of various articles on the premises, is not yet perfected, but will be so early next week. Good music is provided by the brass band, and visitors now find such entertainment as satisfactorily employs their time for at least a couple of hours.

OUT-DOOR SPORTS.

Base-Ball.

CHICAGO VS. MUTUAL.

The White Stockings finished their championship games yesterday with the Mutual Club, and again winning, they credited themselves four games out of the five played. The championship rules require that three games out of the five constituting the series shall be won before either of the contesting clubs can claim a championship match as won. If three are won in succession, then there is no necessity to play the series out, but it is of course to the advantage of professional nines to play all the "regular" games they can before playing "exhibition" games which "new series" games are. The contest of yesterday was but little in advance of the game of the day previous, as far as the display in the field was concerned, the Mutuals muffing badly in the field, while the Chicagos rivaled them in one inning. The following is the score of the match:

Cricket—Germantown vs. St. George.

The first eleven of the Germantown Club for 1871 arrived in town from Philadelphia, yesterday morning, and at noon began play with the St. George Club, the latter being minus the services of GIBBES and EARNSHAW on the occasion. The contest began with the St. George eleven at the bat, and when the last wicket fell they had placed 78 to their credit, of which FAWCETT scored 17, and TORRANCE 15, CATER carrying his bat out for 5. On the other side, the Germantown players were disposed of for 73, RASTALL's 23, well played for, being the feature of their score, JOE HARGREAVES also contributing 19. Of the bowling, RASTALL took the most wickets for the Germantown eleven, and NORLEY, on the part of St. George. When stumps were drawn, last night, five of the St. George wickets had fallen for but 30 runs in their second inning. Play will be resumed at noon today. The East River Bridge—Operations on the New-York Side.

For the last five weeks operations have been steadily going on at the New-York terminus of the East River Bridge, preparatory to placing the caisson and planting the masonry. The locality adjoins the Roosevelt-street Ferry, and presents a busy scene. About 100 men, including dock-builders and ship-carpenters, are constantly at work there, under the supervision of the engineer in charge and several divers and borers are constantly employed. At the northern end of the site a new pier has been built, and inclosed with the most solid plank, forming a perfect breakwater. This diverts the tremendous current, and gives a space of still water for submarine operations. The entire pier, which is 400 by 100 feet in extent, has been covered over in the most substantial manner to afford conveniences for the heavy machinery, lumber, &c., to be used upon the structure. Where the caisson is to be sunk the bed of the river has been dredged to the depth of thirty-seven feet. About twenty feet of mud and all sorts of refuse has been taken out and several valuable and antique relics have been found, including arms, coins, pieces of ship furniture and a part of a human skull. A boring apparatus has penetrated to the depth of sixty-six feet below high-water mark, and at this point a layer of quicksand six feet in depth has been reached. It has been ascertained that the rock strata eighty-three feet down is of a nearly uniform grade, and to this level the caisson is to be sunk. This will be a more difficult undertaking than the placing of the Brooklyn caisson, owing to the facts that this one is four feet larger than that was, and that the current will interpose a much greater opposition. The plan is to float the caisson down from its present mooring, at the foot of Sixth-street, to its permanent location next Monday evening. About eight weeks more of labor will then be required to complete the preparations for sinking it, and from that time the work of building the tower will be rapidly pushed forward.

Department of Docks.

A meeting of the Department of Docks was held yesterday, Mr. WILSON G. HUNT in the chair.

The occupants of slips between piers Nos. 32 and 39 North River, were notified to dredge the same.

Permission was granted to SCHMITT & KOEHUS to erect on the East River, south of Fifty-seventh-street, a temporary landing platform.

Permission was granted to LIVINGSTON & FOX, to retain the small office on Pier No. 36 North River.

The petition of GEORGE S. TOWNSEND to retain the office at the Dry Dock was denied.

A demand for immediate payment of the wharfage due by the East River Ferry Company for use of pier foot of Thirty-third-street, East River, was ordered to be made, and if refused law proceedings were directed to be taken.

Resolutions for the removal by the Swiftsure Transportation Company of obstructions between Piers Nos. 11 and 12 East River, and by the Screw Dock Company of obstructions, between Piers Nos. 39 and 40 East River, were referred to the Executive Committee.

The Board then adjourned.

A Musical Dispute.

The case of CHARLES LEARY against HERMAN COLELL, which was a suit to recover for services as a singer, rendered by THEODORE HABELMANN, the well-known tenor at Terrace Garden, was tried yesterday before Judge QUINN, in the First District Court. Mr. HABELMANN testified that he was employed by Mr. COLELL to sing from the 26th of May to the 1st of August in concerts, for the sum of $500. He promised me, said he, that no vocal concert would be given in the Terrace Garden without me. I have sung there already twelve times, and I refused to sing after the 1st of August. Mr. COLELL has paid me already $400, but he refused to pay me the other $100, and he wanted me to sing up to the 15th of August. Mr. HABELMANN had assigned this claim for $100 to Mr. LEARY as his lawyer, and the defendant's counsel, Gen. PRYOR moved to dismiss the complaint, on the ground that the plaintiff was not the real party in the interest. He also called attention to the statute, that "no attorney, counselor or solicitor, shall directly or indirectly buy, or be in any manner interested in buying, any bond, bill, promissory note, bill of exchange, book debt, or other thing in action with the intent and for the purpose of bringing any suit thereon." The statute makes a violation of the law a misdemeanor, punishable by fine and imprisonment. Judge QUINN expressed the opinion that the case was within the statute, whereupon the plaintiff discontinued the action.

TAMMANY'S CRIMES.

From the Pittsburg Gazette.

It shows the extent to which public feeling has been aroused, when an immense meeting like this one can be held; when the most determined partisans can be made to forego their party prejudices and unite with each other for a common defense. Is it not enough to alarm the most indifferent? The very ground on which the City stands would, in a few years, if these robberies were not checked, scarcely be sufficient to meet the indebtedness heaped up through the villainies of these men. Such is the rule of Democracy.

Hudson Republican.

The ejectment suit commenced against the proprietors of the NEW-YORK TIMES by the City authorities, under direction of Mayor HALL, is one of the most pusillanimous pieces of finesse on the part of convicted criminals ever resorted to. The whole object, of course, is to annoy and cause expense to the TIMES owners because they have exposed corruptions which it would have been treason to suppress. We sincerely trust that this new development of rascality will meet with its just desert.

San Francisco Bulletin.

A year ago the corruptionists of New-York sought to lay their hands on the TIMES, and either crush it or enforce silence. But the only effect was to make that paper more bold and pronounced in its charges of fraud and peculation. Finally, the charges became specified, the sums and the men were named. Tammany rose to its feet in a general denial. HALL published counter statements in a small City organ which he controlled; the other papers contained broadsides of particulars. HALL invited the Chamber of Commerce to appoint a committee to look into the matter. That body refused to appoint. The cloud grew blacker every day, as the charges became more circumstantial and specific. The old threat is renewed. Mayor HALL says that he will sell out the TIMES for back rent on the ground occupied by the establishment. The title is probably good enough. But HALL and his friends having been worried and buffeted by the TIMES, threatened to put an extinguisher on that newspaper. It is the old trick, of men who are in a corner and fail in their defense before the public. There never was a clique of such fellows who did not want to extinguish the newspaper that drew public attention to their rascalities. The TIMES will probably laugh at the new expedient for enforcing silence.

Albany Express.

Can the Democracy, with any hope of success, undertake to carry through the next campaign the load of fraud and infamy which Tammany hopes to heap upon their shoulders? Will they not surely stumble and fail by the way if they attempt it? From the tone of the World, and of certain interior organs of the Democracy, it would seem that such an attempt is expected. Now, Messrs. of the Democratic State Convention, "What are you going to do about it?" You must either indorse Tammany and the frauds committed by the Ring, or repudiate both. The people are awake to the importance of this matter, and will not permit you to temporize.

Jamaica Farmer.

This, then, was no ordinary meeting. Every word uttered by the speakers from the platform touched the hearer in what has been called, the tenderest spot—the pocket. He was shown how, like the rustic at the country fair, his pocket was being picked by adroit knaves, while he, all unconscious, was gazing at the sights around, or was stupidly blind to what was going on about him. He was shown how, while the taxes have been nominally reduced, the City's debt has been increased by millions of dollars, and how it was accomplished. He was told how men who but a few years ago were so poor that they could scarcely keep the Sheriff's officers from their doors, were today the owners of vast estates, of magnificent mansions and stables, that would rival those of the most luxurious of the Roman Emperors, of steam yachts, picture galleries, and jewels of untold value bought with the people's money, shamelessly stolen from the public purse. The outspoken references from the platform and from the audience to restitution, and the State Prison met with unfailing applause, because the honest public sentiment, which the meeting truly represented, will be satisfied with nothing short of justice which carries with it retribution. The resolutions looking to this end passed with enthusiastic unanimity. And the meeting will long be remembered as the entering wedge for the destruction of the Tammany Ring.

Buffalo Express.

This sum that HALL and CONNOLLY admit has been paid to these parties for repairing and furnishing the Court-house and armories, and stationery and printing, it must be remembered, is ample to build and furnish ten such Court-houses as that of New-York, and yet it has been mainly used in repairing one such building. It would build a double-track railway from Buffalo to Albany. It would construct seven first-class ocean steamers. It would put up a telegraph line around the entire globe at a cost of $500 per mile. It would furnish 1,300 farmers each with a farm worth $10,000. It would pay the market price of all the valuable real estate along both sides of Main-street, from the dock to the Court-house square. It would build a court-house for each of the sixty counties of this State at a cost of over $200,000, which is far more than has ever been expended for this purpose. It would provide every town in the State with a union school-house at a cost of over $10,000. From these comparisons, an approximate idea may be obtained of the amount of money that has been deliberately stolen by these Tammany thieves under the pretense of repairing an unfinished building. If our Democratic friends are satisfied with this exhibit of their leaders, let them sanction it by continuing to support the party that upholds such monstrous robbery.

Bridgeport (Conn.) Standard.

If in searching for the political scoundrels of the New-York Ring any shall be found who call themselves Republicans, we hope their punishment may be the swiftest, surest and severest of any. Those Democrats who have assumed the Republican name for the purpose of getting on to the Republican Committees in order to serve TWEED in that capacity, deserve the worst punishment, for they have added to the guilt of stealing that of the betrayal of confidence reposed in them by the Republican Party and they have also attempted to tarnish the name of a great party by assuming to belong to it. These men are meaner specimens of sneaks than even HALL himself.

Troy Whig.

There can be no dispute of the swindle. The only question is how was the money divided? And can there be much doubt concerning the chief swindlers. The sudden wealth acquired by a few men who have seized upon the City and rule it, with more absolute power, and a thousand fold more prodigality than the Czar rules the Russian Empire, and their silly and ostentatious display of it point unmistakably to the swindlers. The Democratic Party must repudiate these men and turn them out of office. It must denounce their crime. It must help bring them to punishment. It must cause them to disgorge their ill-gotten plunder. It must aid in covering them with disgrace. Longer to defend them, and keep them in power, is to share in their infamy and in the public indignation.

Boston Journal.

The grand meeting in New-York last Monday evening was one of the most cheering protests against municipal corruption that the Press has been privileged to record for a long time.

Worcester Spy.

The men who took from the City $12,000,000 to build a Court-house which costs only a fraction of this sum, and deal generally by the City finances in the same way, do other things no less rascally. They contrive election frauds, employ "repeaters" to fill the ballot-boxes in their favor, and scruple at nothing to keep themselves in power. They make Judges of men who ought to be in State Prison, and aim steadily to promote venality and corruption, in order that their own position may be secure. If they can destroy all honesty, and make everybody corrupt, there will be no honest people left to accuse them. If the political ways of New-York City cannot be revolutionized and reconstructed, there cannot be much hope of a change for the better. The infamous swindlers will keep their places, continue their operations, and, every day, repeat their insolent defiance—"What will you do about it?"

Trenton (N. J.) Gazette.

We believe that with the proper management of the sentiment that has evidently been aroused among the honest Democrats of New-York City, a combination of the anti-Tammany elements may be formed which shall prove too formidable for even the tremendous patronage and corrupt political machinery which the Tammany leaders can control. Surely none but the sharers of Tammany's plunder could be fools or knaves enough to sustain it. It simply resolves itself into the question, whether there are more honest men than rogues in New-York City; and notwithstanding the recent shocking revelations of the social impurities of the great Metropolis, we still have such an abiding faith in the better impulses of human nature as to invoke the test. We hope, in behalf of honest government, and of that creditable sentiment which sympathizes with the triumph of virtue and the discomfiture of wickedness, that this course will be adopted. The triumph will then be neither imperfect nor uncertain.

FRIDAY, Sept. 8—P. M.

In the Gold market today the extra advance of yesterday was not sustained. Most of the sales were at 113⅝ ₱ cent. The cash deliveries were comparatively easy. The borrowers of Gold paid about a thirty-second of one ₱ cent. for its use until to-morrow. The receipts into the Treasury for Customs this week are about double the Treasury sales of yesterday. This process, of course, sensibly reduces the supply of Gold in the open market, and a further advance in price is only restrained by the apprehension, on the part of the Bull clique in the Gold Room, that the Government may increase its sales next week, as it certainly ought to do. The Public Funds were ⅛@¼ ₱ cent. lower than yesterday on the 5-20 Coupon Bonds, usually dealt in for Foreign account, in sympathy with the partial decline in Gold and the continued weakness in the Exchange on London, which can scarcely be quoted above 108⅝ ₱ cent. on actual cash sales.

In the speculation on the Stock Exchange there was a somewhat irregular course of prices today on the Railway and Miscellaneous Shares. Some realizations were no doubt made on the recent rapid advance in prices, while at the same time prices were higher than yesterday on several of the Railways, and in Pacific Mail and Western Telegraph. The fluctuations in the Erie movement were full 1@1¼ ₱ cent., and in Lake Shore ½@¾ ₱ cent. In Pacific Mail and in Western Telegraph the operations were on a large scale, and the variations in price ½@¾ ₱ cent. The New-York Central Stock and Scrip were firm. The Lake Shore, Union Pacific, Rock Island, Reading, Ohios, North-Wests, Wabash and St. Pauls were indifferently supported, and there seemed to be something of a pause in demand near the close of the day. The Tennessee Bonds recovered to 74 ₱ cent., and further sales of Central Pacific and of Union Pacific First Mortgages were made at yesterday's advance. The Union Land Grants were 85@85¼ ₱ cent., including October Coupon.

After the late Boards the following quotations were made as compared with Thursday night. The Railways left off irregular:

The Customs in Gold paid into the Treasury today amount to $710,000, making for the five days of the week $3,552,000. Business in Imports continues very active, and the Merchants are paying Customs with unusual promptness, notwithstanding the high price and scarcity of Gold, in order to get their Goods on the market. The receipts of Produce by Canal and Rail are large, and the Export demand for Breadstuffs, Cotton, &c., is active as against high freights and a scarcity of tonnage for Europe.

There is a little better demand for Money to carry Stocks, and also on Mercantile account, but the excess of offerings from lenders is still marked at 4@5 ₱ cent. on call loan, and 5@7 ₱ cent. for Discounts, the inside rate being accepted on prime Short paper.

The Bankers for the Consolidated Mortgage 7 ₱ cents. of the Lake Shore Company have further advanced the price for the Bonds to 99 ₱ cent. and accrued Interest.

The action of the Supreme Court of yesterday restraining the further issue by the Tammany Ring of City and County Bonds, is hailed with satisfaction as the beginning of the end of County and Municipal rascality and recklessness. Confidence is felt that the injunction will be made permanent by the Court next week on the second hearing of the case to show cause on the part of the Mayor, Controller, &c., why the creation of new Bonds should not be arrested. The next question to be tested in the Courts by the Committee of Public Safety, created at the great meeting on Monday night, relates to the restoration of the plunder which for two years past or longer is known to have passed into the corrupt hands of the City and County officials, and their suddenly-enriched copartners or confederates.

The Directors of the New-York Central and Hudson River Company met this morning at Mr. VANDERBILT'S Office, and declared a Half-Yearly Dividend of Four ₱ Cent. on the Stock and Scrip of the Road, $90,000,000 in amount, payable on and after Monday, Oct. 16. The transfers close on Saturday, Sept. 16, (a week from to-morrow,) to reopen immediately after the payment of the Dividend, which is made free of Government tax. The money for this dividend has already been earned out of the service of the current six months, ending Sept. 30, after defraying all expenses and interest on the very moderate debt of the concern and after the half-yearly contribution to the Sinking Funds for the extinguishment of this debt before its maturity.

The Lake Shore Road earned in August $1,291,000 as against $1,177,000 same month last year. The earnings of the Road are now about a million of dollars ahead of last year, and as three of the best months of the year, for freight traffic, are yet to be reported, the probability is that the gross receipts will show nearly or quite a million and a half of dollars ahead of 1870.

Earnings of the Central Pacific Railroad Company:

For the month of August, 1871..........	$995,065 00
For the month of August, 1870..........	807,815 00
Increase this year over 1870..........	$187,250 00
Earnings first eight months, 1871..........	6,009,244 67
Earnings first eight months, 1870..........	5,018,281 40
Increase this year over 1870..........	$990,963 27

The earnings of the Lake Superior and Mississippi Railroad for the two weeks ending Aug. 31 were $26,211.

The week's imports of foreign dry goods have been to the specie value of $3,155,951; amount marketed, $3,651,053.

The editors of the Commercial & Financial Chronicle have favored us with an advance proof of their annual review of the Cotton Trade for the year ending with Sept. 1, from which we extract the following summaries:

The total crop this year reaches 4,352,317 bales, while the exports are 3,166,742 bales, and the home consumption 1,100,196 bales, leaving a stock on hand at the close of the year of 104,814 bales. Our tables showing the whole movement for the twelve months are as follows:

BANKING AND FINANCIAL.

☞ FIRST MORTGAGE SINKING FUND LAND-GRANT BONDS

OF THE

ST. JOSEPH AND DENVER CITY RAILROAD COMPANY,

IN DENOMINATIONS OF $1,000, $500, AND $100, can now be had from the undersigned or through the principal banks and bankers of the United States. The attention of investors is invited to the merits of these bonds, secured by a first and only mortgage on the road, equipments, franchises, and property of a trunk line of railroad which will shorten the distance between New-York and San Francisco some 230 miles, and in addition the mortgage to secure the bonds covers a land-grant of 1,500,000 acres of the most fertile land in the West, which is prohibited from being sold at less than four ($4) dollars per acre by the terms of the mortgage deed, and according to the present market price of the Illinois Central Company's lands is worth $18,750,000. This loan was originally for $5,500,000, but has been largely reduced by subscriptions of actual investors. The remaining balance of the loan is offered at 97½ and accrued interest, but the right is reserved to advance the price at any time, without notice.

The bonds have thirty years to run; bear 8 per cent. interest, payable in New-York, London or Frankfort-on-the-Main, at the option of the holder, without notice, free of taxes. BOTH PRINCIPAL AND INTEREST ARE PAYABLE IN GOLD. They are Coupon Bonds, but can be registered with the coupons ON, or can be registered with the coupons OFF, and interest paid to registered owner. Interest payable Aug. 15 and Feb. 15. A liberal sinking fund, formed from the entire land sales, in payment for which the bonds will be received at par and accrued interest, provides for the early extinguishment of this loan.

Trustees—Farmers' Loan and Trust Company.

These bonds offer favorable inducements to parties desiring to fund their Five-Twenties, or other high-priced securities.

In converting Five-Twenties the investors realize 17 per cent. profit on the principal; 2 per cent. per annum excess of interest; and at the same time get a perfect security.

Maps, circulars, documents, and full information furnished on application.

Though acting as agents for the sale of this loan, our firm buy and sell in their regular business the bonds of the St. Joseph and Denver City Railroad Company, those of the Eastern Division being now quoted at 102 and accrued interest. These were originally placed by us at 97½.

☞ FUNDING FIVE-TWENTY BONDS.

OFFICE OF FISK & HATCH,
No. 5 NASSAU-ST.,
NEW-YORK, Sept. 5, 1871.

We are strongly recommending in exchange for FIVE-TWENTY BONDS, soon to be called in, the SIX PER CENT. GOLD BONDS OF THE CHESAPEAKE AND OHIO RAILROAD COMPANY, now selling at 93 and interest, of which we have only some $5,000,000 still unsold. The total amount of the loan is $15,000,000. They are issued in denominations of $1,000, $500 and $100, coupon and registered, interest payable May and November in New-York City, in United States gold coin.

The CENTRAL PACIFIC SIXES amounting to $25,885,000, are in sharp demand for the German markets, and any amount can be sold as readily as so many Five-twenty Bonds; they are freely dealt in at all the prominent Stock Exchanges in the world, and will soon advance to a large premium. That the same result will follow with the Chesapeake and Ohio Bonds, on the completion of the road, we have no doubt.

Holders of FIVE-TWENTIES, by conversion into CENTRAL PACIFICS, retain the same rate of interest and increase their capital about 12 per cent. By converting into the CHESAPEAKE AND OHIO bonds the increase will be about 20 per cent.

Holders of Centrals can exchange for Chesapeake and Ohios, and increase their capital from 7 to 8 per cent., and in either case have a bond just as sure to be paid, principal and interest, as a Five-twenty bond.

As the amount of Chesapeake and Ohio bonds remaining unsold is so small, and the demand very great, they must soon be absorbed. There are very few Centrals on the market, and they will soon largely advance in price.

☞ FIVE-TWENTIES CAN BE FUNDED with us into the best Railroad Bonds. We recommend those of the RONDOUT AND OSWEGO COMPANY for three reasons: 1. These Bonds are safe. The road is near this City. Every investor can travel over it for himself. The net earnings of one-half of the line pay at present 10 per cent. on all the bonds which will be issued on the whole road. 2. By conversion, as we recommend, the investor adds 25 per cent. to his capital. 3. He also adds 33 1-3 per cent. to his income.

GRAIN—The Wheat market has been active, excited and decidedly higher, influenced by the more favorable reports from Liverpool, which has the effect of stimulating the export inquiry, and materially strengthening the views of holders, who offered stock with much less freedom, and were insisting on extreme rates, particularly for really desirable lots to arrive. The demand was mainly for Red and Amber (Winter) and White Western, and for the better qualities of No. 2 Spring. Toward the close the movement became slow and prices showed less buoyancy, influenced by the increased stringency in the ocean freight market, and the further advance in rates, on both berth and charter. Sales have been reported since our last of 334,000 bushels, all told, afloat and to arrive, including White Canada, to arrive, on private terms; White Western at $1 55@$1 65@$1 70, chiefly at $1 62@$1 65 for good to prime, afloat; Red and Amber Western at $1 48@$1 60, chiefly at $1 48@$1 53 for fair to prime New Red, in store and afloat; $1 53@$1 58 for New Amber do., the latter rate for Amber Michigan, to arrive; $1 42@$1 50 for soft Red and Amber do.; No. 1 Spring at $1 48 reported bid for choice; No. 2 Spring at $1 43@$1 45 here, $1 40@$1 42 to arrive soon, and $1 48 for choice for forward delivery, an outside price; soft do., $1 30@$1 42½; White Genesee, $1 60@$1 68; Red and Amber, $1 50@$1 58; Amber Southern, $1 40 ₱ bushel.... Corn has been in more active demand, mostly for trade and speculative purposes, though partly for shipment, at decidedly firmer prices, on much lighter offerings, closing quite firmly, with a small supply of desirable samples available. Sales have been reported, since our last, of 207,000 bushels at 65c.@70c. for inferior to prime New Mixed Western, chiefly at 69c.@70c., for dry samples of Canal, afloat, closing at 70c.; 69c.@70c., in store; 70c. reported bid, seller October, with 72c. asked; 68c.@69c. for steamer grades; 70c.@72c. for Yellow Western; 72c.@73c. for White Western.... Rye has been in rather more demand and quoted stronger, on the basis of 80c.@82c. for Western, with sales reported of 8,000 bushels prime on private terms, for shipment, wanted to fill a maturing freight engagement.... Barley and Barley-malt have been held with a fair show of confidence, on a moderate offering of stock, but have been without activity. State Malt, $1 10; City, $1 35; Canada, $1 15@$1 30 ₱ bushel.... Oats have attracted more attention from the trade and from speculative buyers, at an advance of about a cent a bushel, closing firmly, with but few desirable samples on the market. Sales have been reported since our last of 112,000 bushels at 45c.@49½c. for very poor to prime New Mixed Western, chiefly at 48½c.@49½c. for prime No. 2 Chicago, part from store; 49½c. for (25,000 bushels) do., October delivery; 44c.@48c. for New Black; 48c.@53c. for ordinary to choice New White Western and White Ohio, and 42c.@48c. for Jersey. FREIGHTS—The Grain movement was unusually brisk today, and rates on both berth and charter were again decidedly firm, with about all the room available for immediate use, as well as to arrive soon, promptly marketed at the improved figures, closing strong and buoyant. The engagements (by sail and steam) and charters were equal to an aggregate of 578,000 bushels. There was more inquiry for vessels for the Petroleum trade at higher quotations, with a very scant supply of tonnage offering. Notice

We cannot notice anonymous communications. In all cases we require the writer's name and address, not for publication, but as a guarantee of good faith.

We cannot under any circumstances return rejected communications, nor can we undertake to preserve manuscripts.

☞ We beg to state that we shall shortly publish, in a cheap pamphlet form, in English and German, the proofs we have submitted during the past few weeks of the City frauds. The warrants copied from the Controller's books, checked and revised by the official accounts sent in to the Board of Supervisors by Mayor Hall, together with the particulars of the "armories swindle," and the numerous other frauds committed under the "Rule of Four," will be arranged in a perspicuous and handy form. A totally new introduction to these reports will be written, and explanations given which will bring the history down to the present time. This pamphlet will have a very large circulation all over the Union—over 150,000 copies are already ordered. We can print only two pages of short advertisements in this pamphlet, and it will be necessary to send in notice early of any applications for this space. We are also ready to receive orders for the pamphlet.

NEWS OF THE DAY.

EUROPE.

Gen. ROSSEL has been sentenced to military degradation and death by the Versailles Court-martial. The Budget Committee of the Assembly report estimates aggregating 4,196,000,000 francs. The Journal des Débats says the differences with the Italian Government arose from the conduct of a member of the French delegation to the Vatican, and have been satisfactorily explained.

The British Government having invited the other European nations to send two military officers to witness the Autumn evolutions of the troops, Field Marshal VON BLUMENTHAL and Count VON ALTEN have been sent by the German Government. Norwegian engineers have been brought to Newcastle-on-Tyne to supply the places of the strikers. Mr. BUTT, the "Home Rule" candidate for Parliament, has escaped from the Irish bailiffs who had arrested him for debt. There appears to be a hope, though slight, that some of the Wigan miners may be saved.

The Salzburg meeting terminated on Thursday, and the Emperor of Germany left yesterday for Munich. The Austrian Government will probably have a large majority in the Reichsrath.

GENERAL.

A collision occurred on Thursday night between two passenger trains on the Louisville and Nashville Railroad, the train bound south running into the rear carriage but one of the Memphis train as it was going upon a side track. Three persons died of their injuries, Mr. BUCHANAN, of Ashville, N. C., Dr. JAMES THOMAS, of Rome, Ga., and Mr. GRIFFITHS, of Nashville.

The National Division of the Sons of Temperance, at Boston, settled the question of colored membership by the adoption of a resolution acknowledging no distinction on account of race, color or former condition.

There have been three deaths in Charleston, S. C., from yellow fever, during the twenty-four hours ending last night.

KANE O'DONNELL, a journalist, well known in New-York, died yesterday morning in Philadelphia.

The Attorney-General and Commissioner of Internal Revenue will instruct District Attorneys to press suits in all internal revenue cases in their hands, particularly cases against ex-collectors against whom balances appear on the books of the Internal Revenue Bureau.

Chancellor KEY, of the Chancery Court of Tennessee, has rendered a decree placing Alabama in immediate possession of that portion of the Alabama and Chattanooga Railroad, located in Tennessee. Alabama, by the action of the Courts, has possession of the entire line of road from Chattanooga to Meridan.

The Internal Revenue office has been informed that the receipts from manufacturers of cigars in New-York for the last six months are largely in excess of those of the corresponding six months of last year.

In spite of all that has been said against Mr. C. WALSH, the candidate for the Governorship of New-Jersey—and that he has enemies is proved by a letter which was sent to us from Bergen the other day—it is quite clear that his nomination is acceptable to the Republican Party generally. The Trenton Daily State Gazette speaks of him as "pure, upright, incorruptible, intelligent, and thoroughly loyal to all that is best and brightest in Republican institutions." And this high estimate of his character seems to be shared by the majority of his fellow-citizens. We now hope that Republicans will unite heartily to secure his election. The defeated candidates for the nomination ought to be among the first to work for the cause which doubtless they have at heart. Gen. KILPATRICK seems to have been much disappointed at the result of the ballot, but a good soldier need not take one defeat very much to heart. If he was maligned during the early canvass, so were the other candidates, and all small differences and animosities should now be put aside. We cannot believe that we shall fail to win New-Jersey in the present state of public feeling. The Republicans of that State are a stout-hearted body of men, and they are not going to be beaten this time. RANDOLPH's majority in 1868 was 4,622. We expect to see this disposed of at the forthcoming election, and transferred to the Republican side.

Laborers on Public Works.

We are informed that, in their desperation the Ring are resorting to the trick of trying to exasperate the laborers in the employ of the City against the movement of citizens and the Press to prevent further robberies of the public money. Payment, we understand, is to be withheld from the laborers engaged on the public works, under the pretense that there is no money in the Treasury, and that the Controller has been prevented from raising any by Judge BARNARD's injunction. It is quite possible that the Ring desperadoes may succeed by this trick in inciting their ignorant dupes to violence and a disturbance of the public peace; and, it is quite certain they would do it if they could. Every laboring man should therefore understand, distinctly, that the injunction issued against TWEED, SWEENY, CONNOLLY and HALL does not restrain them from paying his weekly wages regularly, and that, if he fails to get his pay as usual, it is the fault of these four men and of nobody else. They admit that they have raised, and had under their control, thirty millions of dollars since the beginning of this year, which is nearly seven millions more than they were authorized to raise, by the laws of their own creation, for the entire year. If they now pretend that they have none of this enormous sum left to pay the laboring man his wages, let him ask them what they have done with it. If they have put it in their own pockets, then let the laborers demand that they take it out forthwith, and pay them what is due for their work. Let the working men make this demand in a firm and resolute spirit, and they will find the money forthcoming. The authorities cannot say they have not had the money, for Mayor HALL, the leading demagogue of the crowd, admitted on Thursday, as appears from an interview published in the Sun newspaper, that they had already issued all the bonds they were authorized to issue for the entire year, with the exception of the five millions to construct the Viaduct Railroad. HALL laughed at the injunction as of no consequence whatever, and said it was "one of Judge BARNARD's stereotyped jokes." It will probably be claimed by the Ring that this attempt to cheat the laborers out of their pay was "one of Mayor HALL's jokes," when they find the laborers cannot be deceived by the trick. No laborer in the employ of the City need have any fear about getting his pay regularly the same as usual. The money is in the City Treasury, or in the pockets of the City officials, and when they find that the working men are not to be humbugged by their lying pretences, they will have no alternative but to pay them.

The Ring Again on its Defense.

It has at length come to the knowledge of the Herald that something is happening in this City. For some months past it has never talked of anything nearer home than the equator, but the great meeting last Monday, the injunction granted by Judge BARNARD, and the impending collapse of the Tammany Ring, have aroused it from its sleep. Probably, too, it has received an unmistakable hint as to the temper of the public in its declining circulation, for it boasts of selling one hundred thousand papers a day, and tells a foolish falsehood about us; and whenever it does that it is a sure sign that things are going badly with it. Another signal of distress on the part of the Herald is the reappearance of its well-known column article, showing that the Herald is the most enterprising newspaper in the world, and that six thousand reporters—we believe that is the number it states—are employed to find news for it. The real trouble is that the Herald thought it could make itself the special organ of Mayor HALL, without injuring itself in public estimation—hence it has deliberately suppressed all the evidence of the City frauds, and treated the public with great dishonesty. It has suffered for that offense, as all papers are pretty sure to do. One news-vender at a ferry said yesterday, "I sold this morning eighty-three TIMES, and thirty-one Heralds, and fifty-three Heralds remain on my hands unsold." To counterbalance this tendency, the Herald continues to publish all the abortionists' advertisements, (for which, by the by, it is to be prosecuted,) and it also publishes columns of slip-slop in praise of itself. It boasts yesterday, that it has in its "intellectual department"—most people will be surprised to hear that it has an intellectual department—"an editorial staff of twelve to fifteen men." If it takes fifteen men to write the "editorials" of the Herald, how many would it take to produce a decent newspaper? Then, again, the Herald says it only receives $31,887 a year for corporation advertising. But it forgets to say how much it receives for the Telegram, and how many of its "editors," past and present, are on the City pay-roll. But all these questions are comparatively insignificant, and we do not intend to waste our time in any controversy with the Herald, a paper which is really of as little interest to American readers as if it were published in "Auld Reekie" or the Grampian Hills.

The single circumstance which makes the Herald's truly terrific outburst of rage of any consequence is that it affords another proof of the approaching downfall of the Ring. The Herald finds that it cannot go on any longer ignoring the attacks upon its boon companions and cronies. HALL boasts that he "carries it in his pocket," but the public resolved that at any rate it would not carry the Herald any longer in their pockets, and this has scared the Herald into saying something. It begins, of course, by abusing the TIMES, to which amusement it is heartily welcome. All the Ring organs do that at first, but after a time they come over to our side of the question, and we shake hands with them. So will it be with the Herald. It will flounder about a little longer, and dwindle a little further in its circulation, and then its fifteen editorial writers will suddenly fill its "intellectual department" with fifteen copies of the "Star-spangled Banner," and the Herald will be discovered kicking at the Ring. At that sublime spectacle the whole civilized world will lift up its hands in ecstacy, and cry out "What an astonishing paper is the New-York Herald and how amazing it is that its fifteen editorial writers should all be men of genius."

But the Herald is really an echo of Mayor HALL, and its sudden outburst yesterday is further worth notice as indicating the line which Mayor HALL proposes to take. In the first place, of course, he proposes to defend himself, and in the next to act the part of traitor toward CONNOLLY and TWEED. He has set the Herald to work to throw these two men over. "We call upon them to resign," says the Herald, and of course they will resign, without further parley. But Mayor HALL runs his head against a post when he supposes he can save himself by making Jonahs of TWEED and CONNOLLY. HALL must have known that INGERSOLL's warrants, and KEYSER's, and GARVEY's, were fraudulent—no intelligent man could fail to see that—and yet he signed them. "But he is an honest man," says the Herald. The public would like to have better evidence of that than the testimony of a paper which Mayor HALL "holds in his pocket."

How does Mr. TWEED like Mayor HALL's proposal to throw him over? What does CONNOLLY think of it? We know what the people will say. They will have no compromise whatever. They want to have their money accounted for, and an end put to roguery, and to see the rogues punished. Mayor HALL will not be able to shake this determination. He boasts that he "intends to fill his term of office," and to "run again." The public will probably have something to say on that subject, although Mayor HALL has taught himself to believe that the public only exists to be laughed at.

Black Sheep.

The Twenty-second-street Committee, having seen their respected Chairman off for the prairies of the West, concluded to "free their minds" on Thursday evening. So they resolved, first, that they would co-operate with all citizens opposed to corruption—which, if really true, would mean that they resolved to commit political hari-kari—and second, that they were not under Tammany influence. Appropriately enough, these resolutions were submitted by DANIEL D. CONOVER. His record on the question of purity, disinterestedness, opposition to the Democracy, and corruption, is so well known throughout the State, that any ambiguity in the resolutions is explained by the name of their mover. We imagine that it will take more than Mr. CONOVER's assertion to dispose of admitted facts. So, indeed, the Committee seem to have thought; for as soon as they were adopted, there appeared on the scene Mr. RUFUS F. ANDREWS. He said he was not Tammany's referee and receiver, and gave a statement of his diminutive earnings in that line. But Mr. ANDREWS conveniently forgot to refer to the standing clauses which appear in tax levies, appropriating handsome sums to RUFUS F. ANDREWS for "counsel fees." We remember a payment of that nature of $6,000, within a short time.

If we have done Mr. ANDREWS an injustice, we are sorry for it, but it is only because we have believed what Mr. GREELEY said. He spoke of ANDREWS a brief year since as earning the money and patronage of the Tammany Ring, working in its interest, and earning its wages, and about two years since there were some remarks even less complimentary. If he has since "renounced the devil and all his works," it must have been in the silence of his closet.

Mr. ANDREWS chose to compare the present condition of things in our City Government with their condition ten years ago, when the Commissions were equally divided, literally non-partisan, but with a Republican Legislature and Republican Governor over them. Now every Commission has a majority of Democrats in it, and there is a Democratic Legislature and a Tammany Governor. Does Mr. ANDREWS see no difference? He talks about the Tax Commission, and refers to the period of its creation when it was non-partisan, as it ought to be. But he chooses to conceal the fact that, besides the purchase of SANDS, one of its so-called Republican members, Tammany recently took the power to appoint a fifth Commissioner whenever its work is not well done by four. Mr. ANDREWS also takes care to say nothing of the fact that at least one subordinate has been removed by the Tax Commissioners because he would not do the work of Tammany.

It will be seen that out of this Committee, in which fifty members are holding offices under Tammany, only two rose to deny the evil connection on this occasion. Gentlemen, we beg to assure you that you must try again. We assert that no less than fifty of your one hundred and fifty-nine members are today holding offices under Tammany, from which (with three exceptions) they can be instantaneously removed, or are receiving for themselves or their immediate relatives the drippings of Tammany; that the same is true of thirteen of the Presidents of the twenty-one associations, of eleven of the Vice-Presidents, of eleven of the Secretaries, and of four of the Treasurers, while on the several Executive Committees the number is legion. We have published a partial list, and challenged contradiction. We shall give a more complete one in a few days. The facts cannot be denied, and Messrs. ANDREWS, CONOVER & Co. know it. They therefore seek to persuade people that, though the persons named are holding places under the City Government, they are not under the influence of Tammany. But from them we appeal to the opinion of Hon. HORACE GREELEY, Chairman of the Committee which these gentlemen adorn. That gentleman said, on Oct. 14, 1870:

> "A number of men holding office in the Tax Commission and other branches of the City Government likewise have places on Republican Committees, or in other responsible posts in our organization. There are other Republicans who hold office for a specified term of years, in consequence of some past arrangement with the two political parties at Albany. These last are not immediately dependent on Tammany, and we have at least a right to expect them to stand by the Republican Party and give it their whole influence. But the Republicans who hold office at the mere will of Tammany Hall are differently situated. Their official life depends on their giving satisfaction to those who appoint them. They cannot do this and give satisfaction likewise in places of trust to the party to which they profess to belong. Ye cannot serve God and Mammon. Gentlemen holding office at the will of Tammany, in Tax Commissions or elsewhere! we call on you to resign your places under Tammany, or your places on Republican Committees!"

On April 12, 1870, he said:

> "We ask but one favor of our City's master, (Mr. TWEED,) and that is but simple justice. We ask him to take his hand off the Republican Party organization. It is not manly—nay, it is not honest political warfare—to buy and bribe the men who profess to represent in our Committees the Republican voters of the Metropolis. We do not object to Messrs. HENRY SMITH, RUFUS F. ANDREWS, CHARLES S. SPENCER & Co. earning any money or patronage that the Tammany Ring may have to bestow, if they will honestly proclaim that they are working in its interest and earning its wages, but it is not fair that they should do its work in Republican conventions and before committees of the Legislature, claiming all the time to be speaking the sentiments and struggling for the ascendency of the Republican Party. And we hereby give public notice that no Republicans have been appointed on these Commissions—that is, none whom TWEED does not with reason expect to be more serviceable in office to him and his party than any Democrat could be. * * * The pretense that certain Commissions are filled in part with Republicans is a fraud. Every Board has been organized with full intent to strengthen the Tammany Democracy to the utmost, and enable the Ring to carry the State next Fall for HOFFMAN, if possible—if it be deemed impossible, for some one else. Our friends throughout the State must no longer be duped by these chameleons who talk Republicanism only to betray; and we now ask the Republican General Committee to exclude from its counsels all who have taken or shall hold office under the sway of Tammany Hall. So long as any of these remain in our Committees we shall continue to be betrayed into the hands of our enemies."

On June 7, 1870, he said that, except in the Police and Central Park, "Tammany has everything. Her retainers fill all the offices."

Mr. ANDREWS says there is no connection with Tammany Hall. Mr. GREELEY says the contrary. We prefer to believe Mr. GREELEY, and we think that in this respect the people will do the same.

Southern Folly.

It is a comfort to know that the race of Southern fire-eaters is not yet extinct. Since they are so scattered, and so shorn of their power of harm, we think we may say, without want of patriotism, that we are refreshed in coming across an occasional specimen, marked by all the characteristics of the species. If the editors of the Advertiser & Mail, of Montgomery, Ala., could, by an otherwise innocent bill, be maintained in the state of mind that gave birth to their two-column leader of the 30th of August, entitled, "The Philistines be upon thee, Samson!" we should support it on the principle that we would support an appropriation for a national museum of rare wild animals at Washington. We do not know, however, that any special act is necessary, so long as Gen. GRANT and Senator MORTON survive, and are kept by their fellow-citizens in positions of prominence. As long as the editors we have referred to can see in the President at once a "Washington Dictator," a "Sultan of Turkey," and a "Czar of Russia," whose "edicts shall be those of CÆSAR, whose civil power, backed by bayonets, shall enter the doors of every court-house in the land, and accompany every Judge upon the bench; and whose cannon shall growl derision at any timid suggestion of local law and popular rights not granted by power, but inherited from nature," we may count on a pretty constant development of fire-eating sound and fury. In addition to this incentive, or even in its absence, an occasional speech from Senator MORTON will be very effective in the same direction. For the Indiana Senator appears to the angry editor "a fellow-conspirator in kindling the flames of fratricidal strife, with the atheistic and adulterous wretch, old THAD. STEVENS," and a "radical leper whose soul is more deformed than his foul body," (our readers generally probably know that the Senator is a rather fine-looking man, with his lower limbs stricken by paralysis.) The Senator's last offense is saying that he "would not sit, nor advise loyal men to sit, in the Senate by the side of DAVIS, TOOMBS, and BRECKINRIDGE." Whereupon the soul of the Southern editor flames into print as follows:

> "Verily, we should think not. He affects patriotism and loyalty. Faugh! it is sheer cowardice. If the people of the United States wish a new sensation let them see that DAVIS, TOOMBS and BRECKINRIDGE go back to the Senate, and that MORTON and his fellow-conspirators remain there. Don't let them run away! We would have a great painter to limn the scene. Gods! it would be worth ten years of existence to witness the quiet dignity and silent scorn with which JEFFERSON DAVIS—whose honor and truth have never been impeached—would overwhelm this Radical impostor, who has never had any more idea of personal honor than a mangy pig, or of truth than a magpie. We should like to see the impetuous TOOMBS, overmastered by his hot rage at so much meanness and impudence, seize this execrable creature in his powerful grasp and hold him up aloft, squirming and spewing amidst the jeers and contempt of the world. We should like to see the noble BRECKINRIDGE, rising to his full stature and turning an eye on the bloody and perfidious knave who, with others like him, made civil war a necessity in our country, until he should wish to hide his leprous carcass in the first rat-hole in the Capitol."

On the whole we, too, should like to see it. At least, we should like to see it attempted. It is now many years since the Senate Chamber of the United States witnessed the performance of mock-heroic tragedy by Southern Senators. The people have gradually forgotten that it was ever possible. Since Southern communities can maintain in comparative prosperity journals capable of this frothing, it might be well for the nation to see evidences of the obstinacy and folly that make such things profitable. Certainly if DAVIS, and TOOMBS, and BRECKINRIDGE have followers in the South that still believe in them—in their patriotism, and purity, and statesmanship—it might as well be known. But if the poor fellows who, shut in by their blind passions from the life of the great body of the American people, think that the appearance of their heroes on any conspicuous stage would fail to provoke swift and complete extinction, they miserably deceive themselves. We do not object to the continued existence of fire-eaters, but it is because their known existence is all that is needed to make them as harmless as they are ridiculous.

The Salamander.

One of the favorite manifestations of that mysterious power by which Mr. HOME, the medium, is wont to gratify and perplex the nobility and gentry of Great Britain, is to handle red-hot coals as though they were so many sugar-plums. This and similar achievements seemed so marvelous that Lord LINDSAY and Lord ADARE have been unable to contain their amazement, but have published it to the world in neat pamphlets. Now, however, we have an account of an ignorant negro blacksmith in Maryland, unsuspected of any affiliation with the powers of the air, who surpasses in this line Mr. HOME's most phenomenal exploits. He is said, for example, to take a fire-shovel, heated to a white heat, and apply it to the soles of his naked feet until the shovel has become quite black and cold. Molten lead he will hold in his mouth until it is solidified, and with his unprotected hands he will pick red-hot coals out of the fire and pass them round the company. Nor does this playing with fire seem to entail on the Maryland Salamander any of the usual effects. Careful examination by physicians, we are told, failed to discover any trace of burns, or, indeed, the slightest injury to the skin which had come in contact with the heated substance.

Now the trick itself is not very remarkable. It is one of the oldest in the paraphernalia of legerdemain, and medieval jugglers earned by it an easy reputation as magicians from gaping and terrified rustic spectators. In many of those odd tests by fire and water which entered into the primitive jurisprudence of the Middle Ages, in which accused persons were sometimes required to establish their innocence by walking barefoot over red-hot plow-shares, or grasping red-hot bars of iron, or plunging the hand into boiling water, the same device is said to have been successfully used. There are many chemical applications which will make the skin almost or quite impervious to the action of heat. Common soap rubbed on the tongue is said to have this effect, and was and perhaps is a frequent specific with the vagrant country wizard. The feats themselves, therefore, are neither unprecedented nor inexplicable, except on the supposition put forth both in the case of Mr. HOME and his Maryland rival, that no chemical or other extrinsic agency is resorted to. The negro asserts that from his earliest years he "has never been afraid to handle fire," that "he has always drank boiling coffee with less harm than cold water," and that in his trade it has been his habit constantly, whenever his tongs were not handy, to take the red-hot iron out of the forge with his fingers. And he alleges that from such action he has never felt the slightest inconvenience.

If there is indeed in this case no collusion or trickery, it would indicate that, with long-continued habit, a naturally pachydermatous organization may become blunted to the effects of fire; or there may be some as yet unknown and powerful anæsthetic revealed by chance to these fire-eaters, which, without affecting the consciousness, temporarily benumbs the sense of feeling. How the tissues escape destruction, however, is not so easily explained. In Mr. HOME's case, of course, that mysterious "psychic force," which we believe has been settled upon by experts as the basis of his wonderful powers, is sufficient to account for this and all his other abnormal performances. But unless the Maryland blacksmith is also provided with abundance of "psychic force," it is hard to see by what instrumentality the ordinary penalties of nature are evaded. The feat is at any rate curious enough to merit investigation, which may aid to detect the imposture of the English medium, if it brings no more important results to science. In these days of inflammable oils and explosive boilers, it would certainly be pleasant to possess the secret of the salamander.

MINOR TOPICS.

We publish today a letter from a correspondent on "How to Govern New-York." His plan may not be unobjectionable—it is open to many criticisms, as we may perhaps point out on another occasion—but it is an intelligent attempt to provide a better form of government than we now possess, and we therefore commend it to the careful consideration of our readers. The more thought which is brought to the discussion of this subject, the greater is likely to be our success in the next attempt we make to govern this City wisely. We shall be glad to publish, so far as our limited space will allow, further suggestions—but we hope our correspondents will imitate Mr. NORDHOFF's virtue, and put their ideas in as brief a space as possible.

Mr. CORNELL's letter to Mr. HORACE GREELEY will be found well worth reading. It discusses a subject on which there has been much misrepresentation, but we hope the time is at hand when the whole controversy may safely be laid aside. While unjust statements are made on the one hand, replies are inevitable on the other, and everybody will admit that Mr. CORNELL was entitled to the hearing which he at present claims. The facts put forward in his letter deserve attentive consideration.

The Broadway Widening Assessment is now made, and the total sum to be raised is $4,493,619. Is this, too, to be swallowed up by our Tammany friends? Surely people cannot be expected to pay this new tax in the face of the exposures which have recently been made, and in the prospect of the speedy overthrow of the present City Government! What sense or reason is there in giving TWEED & CO. nearly four and a half millions more to feather their nests withal?

Judge BARNARD explained to a Standard reporter that his injunction was "specially framed in such manner as not to interfere with payment of laborers on the public works." If, therefore, the wages of these men are stopped, they will have to thank TWEED, CONNOLLY, SWEENY and HALL for it. The great Four have received plenty of money to pay everybody with—thirty millions of dollars since the beginning of the year. What have they done with it? Let the people who find their wages stopped demand an answer to that question.

Those remunerative connections of the Herald, "DR." PERRY and MRS. VAN BUSKIRK, have been held to await the action of the Grand Jury. The Brooklyn Coroner's Jury have found that EMILY A. POST died from the results of the "brutal and inhuman treatment" received at the hands of these parties. They further found that the father, brother and sister of the deceased were "guilty of an unnatural outrage, evincing depraved minds," on account of having placed a member of their family in the care of "known abortionists." As some of these people declared that they obtained their knowledge of the "Dr." and Madame through the columns of the Herald, the jury might fitly have saved a few adjectives wherewith to characterize the conduct of the daily "go-between." To attempt to conceal shame by criminal means is doubtless a proof of a depraved mind, but to pocket the wages of crime, with a sentimental snivel over its consequences, is a proceeding for which "depraved" is altogether too mild a term.

The Maine Democracy is exultant over the presumed Republican apathy in the State. CHARLES P. KIMBALL, the Democratic candidate for Governor, has issued a "private and personal" circular to his adherents, informing them that victory is certainly within their reach, if they will but "quietly and cautiously" adopt means at once to make sure that every Democrat comes up to the polls. The Chairman of the Democratic State Committee has sent round missives of a similar character, only couched in more mysterious terms. Mr. BUTLER's circular is, in fact, quite melodramatic in its profusion of italics, large capitals and dark suggestions. And so, while the Republicans are, with a consciousness of strength, taking things rather too quietly, the Democratic leaders are stealing along on tip-toe like a couple of stage villains, and with a very dramatic "hist!" to their following, are trying to sneak in at the back door of the Capitol before its guardians are awake.

Another "fasting girl" has turned up in Lancashire. ANNE RIDING is the name of the new phenomenon, and her achievements cast those of her famous Welsh prototype quite into the shade. According to the London newspapers, Miss RIDING for sixteen months has taken no food whatever. The only sustenance she can bear is "a drop of water with which to moisten her lips." When asked if she will take food, she always firmly refuses it. "She is conscious, but very weak,"—as well she may be—"gets little sleep" and—this is really a little suspicious—"cannot bear a lighted candle in the room at night-time." The last-named peculiarity, shared with so many of the spiritual philosophers, is full of suggestiveness, and may possibly, in the sequel, furnish a key to the mystery. At the same time, in justice to Miss RIDING's claims, we should state that many doctors have been with the lady both by day and night, and, from the reports of the journalists, have failed hitherto to prove her an impostor.

The Spiritualist missionaries in the West have been doing their work so well that the innocent country people are ready to believe the most incredible stories about ghosts and ghostly manifestations. In Illinois the converts are said to number several thousand. The latest achievement of the spirits in that State has produced a startling effect on the minds of the ignorant and superstitious. A short time since, it appears, that a little girl, the daughter of a man named SHELBY, while engaged in ironing a white pocket-handkerchief, was attracted to what seemed to be the falling in of the centre of it, with the portrait of a beautiful lady. She immediately took the article to her parents, who readily accepted the "mystery" as a sign from the unseen world. The fame of the "spirit photograph," as the Cairo Bulletin calls it, has since been spread far and wide, and hundreds have flocked to the Shelby homestead to examine it. Disembodied spirits are reported to be hovering near; and as a matter of course, the ever-industrious "meejums" have taken advantage of the excitement to replenish their slender purses.

An ingenious advertiser has hit on a new scheme in London. He proposes to advertise on every letter dispatched from or received in that metropolis for one year—the advertisement to occupy "a space of not less than one half-inch outside the circumference of the date-stamp, and to be impressed at the same time." The Postmaster-General, we are not surprised to hear, has declined the offer, notwithstanding it was recommended by a tender of twenty-five thousand dollars annually for the privilege. However, the bare idea has been profitable, since publicity was necessarily given to the proposition, and many journals have printed comments upon it.

The Chinese Government persists in its aggressions on the missionaries in a way that shows the obstinacy of its resolution. Hereafter, by late decrees, no township or parish is to be responsible for any loss or damage whatever that a missionary may suffer. The perpetrators of crimes against the person are to be punished, but no compensation can be enforced for the destruction of property or the theft of movables. Besides this, all foreign women are to be banished, and all native women are forbidden to attend any Christian meeting whatever. Schools for girls taught by Christians are entirely prohibited, and, indeed, Pagan children of either sex must not frequent Christian schools. Still further onerous regulations are to be enforced concerning the precise registration of all changes of religion; and, if any missionary seeks redress for any wrong whatever, he must hereafter fall flat on his face, perform the "kotou," and fulfill other degrading exactions of Celestial etiquette.

How to Govern New-York.

To the Editor of the New-York Times:

Now that the public, or at least the honest part of it, demands a new charter, I trust the Press will give a little thought to the question, what sort of a government the City of New-York ought to have. If this is left to the Legislature to decide, that body will do as it did in 1870—adopt the first charter which is vigorously pressed upon it; and as the hack politicians know best how to press a Legislature to the deciding point, they will once more have the making of a new charter, and New-York will be as badly off as before and now.

The City has now suffered almost every conceivable form of government except one. It has never yet been governed by its own people. It has been ruled or rather misruled at Albany, by country gentlemen; it has been governed by "non-partisan" Boards; it has been under the rule, as the late Gen. HALPINE used to say, of a set of conspirators of both parties; but it has never had trial of a genuine republican government. Suppose you try that. I believe that is the only way to efficient and economical government.

Let the Legislature be asked to frame a charter giving the City:

First—A Mayor, elected for one year, and empowered to appoint all his subordinates, including the Controller, for the same term, of one year. Let him be made responsible for the good conduct of the men he appoints; let him have full power over all executive and administrative matters. For instance, let it be one of his chief duties to keep the streets clean: not by the stupid way of making contracts to have them swept once a week, which no great city in Europe uses; but by laborers hired for the purpose, and machinery provided by the City. Let him be required to publish monthly returns of the cost of every City Department.

Second—A Common Council, also elected for one year, but very numerous. It should contain at least one hundred and fifty members, in a single house. It should have no administrative functions whatsoever; but it ought to have all the powers which belong to a Legislature; and chiefly the power of the purse. That is to say, the Common Council ought to vote the appropriations.

Third—Let the Judiciary, as the terms of the present Judges run out, be appointed by the Mayor, with the consent of the Common Council, if you will, for life or good behavior.

Fourth—Let the State Legislature thereafter refrain from all legislation specially for the City. Let charters for City railroads and other purely City corporations be granted by the Common Council, subject always to the wholesome provision of our State laws, that all charters may be altered or revoked by the power that granted them.

You will then have, what the City never has had, a Government directly responsible to the people whose interests it touches; an administration which they may turn out at a single effort; all of whose conduct comes before the people, for approval or for rejection, once in a year; a Mayor, upon whose single and conspicuous head will fall the whole blame of every abuse; a Common Council numerous enough to give all classes in the City a fair representation, and endowed with such responsibilities that a seat in it will be worthy the ambition of the best citizen.

And finally, you will have a Government just as good as the people wish, and you cannot give them—at least you have never succeeded in giving them—anything better.

If you say that under such a charter OAKEY HALL, or FERNANDO WOOD, or TWEED would be the first Mayor, I admit this possible. But if this first Mayor ruled badly—and he could not do worse than your present rulers have done—he would have to misrule in open daylight; and the Press and public opinion would fix all eyes upon him as the author of the wrong; and, at the next election he would be turned out. If the Democrats continued to misrule, you could make New-York a Republican city in three elections; while all the contrivances of Republican politicians so far for ten or twelve years have only increased the Democratic vote.

To have efficient and economical government, you must give your rulers large and sufficient power, and you must ask the people to vote for but one or two men—one Chief Executive, and one legislator. These the Press can hold responsible. The Federal Government is today the most honest and efficient in the country. Why? Because the people elect only a President and a member of Congress; and the President is responsible to the nation for all his subordinates, who are appointed by him, for his own term of office.

New-York has suffered much from "non-partisan" government. A "non-partisan" administration is sure to be corrupt. Let the City have a strictly party government, as it would have under such a charter as I have suggested, and the party in power, responsible for its office-holders, would not, after a little experience, dare to nominate either corrupt or inefficient men. I hear some nonsense talked about a "Provisional Government." Who is to select it? and what power is it to have? If you want to be rid of your present rulers at once, let the citizens subscribe half a million of dollars and employ EDWARDS PIERREPONT to arrest them and bring them before the Courts. That is practical and practicable. But the chief hope is in a charter so framed that the City Government shall become simple, easily understood, responsible to the fullest extent, to the people, and thus an object of interest, instead of what it has for years been, an object of disgust and a puzzle to all honest men.

CHARLES NORDHOFF.

POLITICAL AFFAIRS.

REPUBLICAN REORGANIZATION.

Mr. Cornell's Reply to Mr. Greeley.

NEW-YORK, Sept. 7, 1871.

Mr. Horace Greeley, Chairman of the late Republican General Committee of the City of New-York:

SIR: While in a distant part of the State, I read in the Tribune your letter, dated Sept. 1, addressed to me. I embrace the first opportunity after my return to reply.

Although you devote four columns of the Tribune (on two occasions) to a very unfair criticism of my letter to Mr. HOTCHKISS, putting words in my mouth which I did not use, and making unwarranted inferences from fragmentary quotations, you have studiously avoided printing that letter, that your readers might see what I did say. Is this not a little singular, inasmuch as most of the leading Republican papers of the State have thought it of sufficient consequence to publish, and generally with words of commendation?

Your greatest satisfaction seems to be in accusing me of falsehood and misrepresentation; and, singularly enough, the very points upon which you most freely lavish these ornamental phrases are those to sustain which any number of credible witnesses could be produced. It is a very cheap way of disposing of evidence or argument which you cannot disprove, to pronounce your opponent a liar. It can hardly be possible that such unfairness and vituperation will gain you an advantage in the minds of an intelligent and fair-minded constituency. Let me say, in general, that I have made no statement which I did not believe to be true, and none which, with certainly quite as good an opportunity of knowing the facts as you possess, I do not now believe to be true.

Putting aside the endless and insignificant details of all this business, the question at issue, the one upon which the Republicans of the State desire to form an intelligent opinion, may best be discussed by considering the right or wrong of the action of the State Committee in directing the reorganization. Upon this question you are of late particularly eloquent in condemnation of the State Committee, denying its right to take such action. Why did you not take this position before the Committee acted? In all of the many interviews between yourself and the Chairman and other members of the State Committee, during the Winter, while this matter was under the most serious consideration, you never uttered one single word of protest or opinion that the State Committee had not full authority to take this action, under the remarkable circumstances in which we were placed.

On the contrary, you repeatedly said you should not dispute the authority of the State Committee. You, Mr. GREELEY, said to the late General Committee, in assuming its chairmanship on the 5th of January last, these words:

"But it is said, gentlemen, that the State Committee is about to take our City in hand, and for a third time reorganize her Republican associations. I am not here to dispute either the authority, the wisdom, or the impartiality of that committee. Honest men are slow to suspect the motives of others; those who want nothing but justice do not jump blindly to the conclusion that others are intent on doing wrong. I assume that our State Committee will earnestly desire to do right, and will not make haste to disorganize, under the plea of reorganizing us. I am confident that it will approach us as friend meets friend, with earnest intent to dispel distrust by mutual explanations, and to secure harmony by an exhibition of good faith and good will. Let me here say frankly that I for one shall in no case dispute the authority nor defy the mandates of the State Committee, even though it should direct that this Committee be disbanded or superseded. During nearly forty years of political activity I was never yet identified with a contesting delegation, and I am too old now to begin. I would rather represent Oregon as a regular delegate than appear from New-York as a contestant. I fully understand that the delegates chosen to our next and to any future State Convention, in accordance with the dictates (no matter how mistaken) of the State Committee, will be entered upon the official roll of that convention, and called in their order as entitled, prima facie, to seats; and I shall neither attend myself, nor certify the choice of others to attend, with the hope of ousting those thus seated. Our brethren of the rural districts have already been quite enough disgusted and demoralized by such contests from the City."

You said this officially and deliberately. Why do you repudiate this assurance? Did the State Committee take unfair advantage of you or your friends? Did we not, to use your own words, "approach you as friend meets friend, with earnest intent to dispel distrust by mutual explanations, and to secure harmony by an exhibition of good faith and good will?" I submit that we met you as friends. In ordering the reorganization, we placed the work absolutely in the hands of yourself and Mr. WILLIAM ORTON, one of your most intimate personal and political friends. Could the State Committee have given more complete assurance of its disposition to promote harmony?

Not only in the official action of the State Committee, but in the repeated personal assurances of Mr. RAMSEY, Mr. OPDYKE, Gen. SHARPE, and many other members of the Committee, you had the most abundant evidence of the good will of the Committee toward yourself and your friends.

You know, Mr. GREELEY, as every intelligent man knows, that you were placed at the head of the late General Committee by the agents of the Tammany Ring. You know it was a trick to avoid the dreaded reorganization. The outrageous manipulation of the General Committee and the Republican associations of last year, by the use of Tammany patronage and Tammany greenbacks, and by the brute force of the Police, had satisfied all good Republicans that this corrupted machinery should be destroyed, and a regenerated organization created in its place. The Tribune had for years been dilating upon the evils of the corrupting control of the Republican organizations by the Tammany plunderers.

When, in response to the general demand for reorganization, the State Committee was called to meet on the 28th of December, the Tammany officials became alarmed. What could be done to protect their bogus Committee? Three days before the State Committee were to meet, a caucus of the newly-elected delegates was held, which was presided over by Mr. RITTERBAND, a $10,000 Tammany official, and a full-blooded Tammany Committee—consisting of Police Commissioner MANIERRE, Fire Commissioner GALWAY, DANIEL D. CONOVER, RUFUS F. ANDREWS and THOMAS E. STEWART—was appointed to report names for officers of the General Committee of 1871. You know, Mr. GREELEY, as I know, and as every man familiar with New-York politics knows, that this Committee would do precisely and only what WM. M. TWEED and his friends wanted done.

They reported, and the caucus approved, the names of HORACE GREELEY for President and SINCLAIR TOUSEY for Vice-President. This was done simply and only to prevent reorganization, and it was regarded as a huge joke by their friends. They argued that the State Committee would not have courage to order the reorganization of a Committee of which you were the Chairman. In this they were mistaken. The State Committee, for abundant cause, the sufficiency of which no man knows better than yourself, did order the reorganization; and if you, Mr. GREELEY, had acted under the appointment of the State Committee, no respectable Republican in the State of New-York would have questioned the policy of reorganization. All would have acquiesced, and we should have had to-day a harmonious and united party, to take advantage of the stupendous corruption of our adversaries, and we would have been able to sweep the State as a whirlwind.

On you, Mr. GREELEY, rests the responsibility of the present situation. You alone have prevented the restoration of harmony and confidence, by declining to serve in the work of reorganization when appointed by the State Committee. Why did you decline? Not because you ever questioned the authority of the State Committee, nor because you supposed that your declination would prevent the reorganization. In your letter of declination you said to the State Committee: "It gives me no pleasure to inform you that I must decline the part assigned me by the State Committee in the work of reorganization of the party in this City. Had a little forbearance and conciliation been evinced by the appointing power at Washington, I think this might have been different."

Thus you refused to join in the good work of redeeming the local machinery of the party from the control of the Tammany conspirators; not because the work of reorganization was not right in itself, not because you questioned the authority of the State Committee, not because that committee had not provided a fair and honorable basis of reorganization, not because you had not been treated with the greatest kindness and consideration by the committee—but because the appointing power at Washington did not suit you. Will this prove a reasonable excuse to the Republicans of the State for placing yourself in hostility to the State Committee in its efforts to purge the party of its corrupted and corrupting organization?

On the 9th day of March the State Committee provided that whenever the reorganization was perfected by the organization of the new Central Committee, all authority for conducting the affairs of the Republican Party in the City of New-York should devolve upon the new organizations, and that all other organizations should be disbanded and have no further authority; and you held the appointment of the State Committee for one month, considering whether you would accept or not, and finally declined, at the dictation of the subsidized conspirators, knowing full well that your adherence to them would inevitably produce the present condition of affairs.

If it was your opinion that the State Committee had no sufficient authority for its action, it was your duty, Mr. GREELEY, as chairman of the late General Committee, to protest against it at the time. It was the duty of the Tribune, as a great Republican organ, to open its thunder at the State Committee then, instead of waiting for months until the work of reorganization is completed, and then throw hot shot into our own ranks just as we are ready to go into the Fall campaign against the common enemy.

Your complaint, that the State Committee has called "an unusually late State Convention," is wholly unfounded. The Convention is called for the last Wednesday in September, which is the same day on which it was held in 1869 and 1867, and is just one week later than the Convention of 1865. These are the years intervening between the Gubernatorial and the Presidential elections, as the present year is. Thus, instead of "an unusually late Convention," it is to be at the usual time, as established by the precedents of the past six years.

Mr. GREELEY! much has been said about dissensions and controversies between Republicans. Remember that this controversy is of your own seeking. I wrote a civil letter to a leading Republican, in answer to inquiries which had been made of me as Chairman of the State Committee. Others thought it desirable that it should be published. In it I assailed no one, nor spoke an unkind word of any Republican. The Tribune attacked me by name, called me a calumniator, and charged me with unworthy motives. Not content with this, you, over your own signature, address me officially by name in the Tribune, and boldly accuse me of falsehood and misrepresentation. In what manner have I merited such violence? Last year I labored earnestly and faithfully to nominate you for Governor, and that, too, in opposition to Gen. WOODFORD and GEORGE WILLIAM CURTIS, both my esteemed personal friends. Later, I warmly supported your nomination and election to Congress, while you were strenuously opposed by many of the very men with whom you are now consorting in the Tammany Republican Committee. During all of the proceedings in regard to the reorganization, I treated you with the greatest courtesy. In my Hotchkiss letter I said not a single word disrespectful of you. What I have said in this communication has been more than provoked by your personal attack upon me. The Republicans of the State are sick and tired of these personalities. With them rests the disposition of the work of reorganization. For my part, I do not intend to contribute to any further controversies. I shall do my best to promote the harmony and prosperity of the party which has been so needlessly imperiled by your unfortunate action.

Respectfully yours,
ALONZO B. CORNELL.

Not an Office-Holder.

We are requested to print the following, addressed to the editor of the Tribune:

In your communication to Hon. A. B. CORNELL, Chairman Republican State Committee, in your issue of Saturday, I notice that you have classified me as an office-holder.

I desire to deny explicitly that I now hold any official position whatever, nor have I held any position under the Federal Government since I was removed, in June, 1866, from the appointment of Public Store Cartman, on account of my open hostility to ANDY JOHNSON, (who was then "swinging around the circle,") and my earnest support of Congress and the Republican Party.

Respectfully, yours,
WILLIAM HAW, JR.,

ITALIAN POLITICAL CLUB.

Disaffection Among Italian Democrats—A Significant Movement in the Five Points—Italians and Poles as a Political Element.

The Italians of the Five Points form a very considerable portion of its population. They are for the most part working men, and belong to the poorer classes. There are, however, quite a number of them who are men of large means, and wield considerable influence among all classes in the quarter, into the composition of which the Poles enter largely. These people have been in past years under the control of Tammany politicians, and have assisted materially to swell the Democratic majorities in the Fourth and Sixth Wards. Since the startling exposures of the "Ring" in the TIMES, the more intelligent and reflective minds among the Italian and Polish residents of this locality have been led to look upon the Tammany leaders as unworthy of their support. Mayor HALL, who was at one time, with the Italians, one of the most popular of political leaders, has, since his refusal to review their procession—a courtesy which he never before denied to any body of citizens—fallen from the height of favor which he formerly occupied, and it is now questionable whether he would obtain their suffrage should he ever again be a candidate for office. The exposures of Tammany official malversation, and the conduct of Mayor HALL in ignoring the Italians of the City as of any political account, have determined them to show that, as an element of political strength, they are not to be despised.

One of their leaders states that there are between four thousand and five thousand Italian voters in this City, and that there are a number of Italian immigrants yet unnaturalized who may be made available as voters by the election of next year. To insure a proper preponderance in political affairs, the Italians have determined to form political organizations in those parts of the City where they are most numerous. The initiative has been already taken in the Five Points. There has, indeed, been an Italian political club in existence in that locality anterior to the present movement, but it has been a rather lukewarm organization, and totally devoted to the fortunes of the Tammany clique. Before the late celebration, a banner of the club bore the words, "Democratic Political Club." Shortly after the celebration the name "Democratic" was stricken out, and the members of the Club now signify their intention to stand free of the dictation of any political party. The Italians have entered with their native enthusiasm upon the work of making their Club, upon its new basis, a live organization. Rooms for it are to be hired in the newly-renovated house of F. CAMPERA, an Italian grocer and liquor-dealer on Baxter-street, and the Italians are sanguine of its future success and usefulness. As many of the leading men of the Club talk loudly against the glaring frauds practiced by Tammany, it is not improbable that this Italian political Club may be a nucleus of a revolution that will overthrow the power of Tammany, or nullify their repeating machinery in this hitherto stronghold of Democratic corruptionists, the Five Points and neighborhood. As a strong friendship exists between the Italians and their numerous neighbors the Poles, the Polish battalions may be counted upon in the movement.

GENERAL LOCAL POLITICS.

Fourteenth Assembly District Republican Association—California Congratulated.

The regular monthly meeting of the Fourteenth Assembly District Association was held last evening at Plimpton Hall, Mr. ROBERT B. BOYD presiding.

Several new members were proposed for admission and their names referred to the Committee on Admission. Mr. CHARLES E. FOLSOM, proposed the following resolutions, which were seconded by Gen. PINCKNEY in a forcible speech, and carried unanimously:

Resolved, That we hail with joy the reverberation of the first gun of this campaign, sent from the great Pacific slope, announcing the great victory achieved by our fellow-Republicans in the Golden State of California, resulting in the triumphant election of a Republican Governor and Legislature, on whom devolves the choice of a United States Senator, and an entire delegation in Congress.

Resolved, That this triumphant redemption of the Administration of President GRANT is an assurance to us to look forward to his triumphant re-election.

A member suggested that a resolution complimentary to Judge BARNARD be passed.

Gen. PINCKNEY and several other members opposed this. The question was postponed, and the meeting, after transacting some routine business adjourned.

The Germans and the Ring Frauds.

A mass-meeting of German citizens of the Tenth Ward, called by circular to express indignation on account of the frauds of our City officials, was held, last night, at the Tenth Ward House, corner of Forsyth and Broome streets. There was a good and most respectable attendance. Mr. WILLIAM GELLMAN called the meeting to order, and recapitulated briefly the proceedings taken by the Cooper Institute Citizens' Meeting, and the subsequent action of the Executive Committee. On the question being put to the meeting, that action was indorsed by a perfect storm of ayes, without a single dissentient voice, and resolutions similar in tenor to those then adopted were enthusiastically carried. Several powerful addresses in denunciation of the Tammany Hall knaves were made and drew forth great applause. Messrs. JOSEPH GUNKEL and CHARLES WACHE acted as joint secretaries.

Seventh Assembly District Republican Association.

A large meeting of the reorganized Seventh Assembly District Republican Association was held last evening, Mr. GEO. W. CLARKE, the President, taking the chair. Remarks in support of the National Administration were made by Col. MORGAN, Col. A. J. H. DUGANNE, and JAMES A. RICHMOND, the speakers referring to the Republican success in California as an augury of success for the party all over the Union. A committee was appointed to ascertain from Mayor HALL whether he is willing to permit the Inspectors of Election who were elected for the district last year to serve at the coming election. The Committee were also directed to wait upon the Committee of the People's Association to learn their views and inquire what action they had taken in the matter. The Committee appointed by the meeting consisted of Col. MORGAN, Col. DUGANNE, J. A. RICHMOND, and J. D. LAWSON. Thirty new members were enrolled and forty others proposed for admission.

Activity Among Colored Republicans.

The colored Republicans of this City propose to be very active in the present political campaign, and their association meetings are invariably well attended. The colored Republican General Committee held a meeting recently at which they determined to take action to bring out the full strength of the colored vote this Fall to help to insure the return of an anti-Tammany Legislature.

NEW-JERSEY POLITICS.

Great Republican Demonstration in Jersey City—The Nomination of Cornelius Walsh Ratified.

An immense Republican meeting, upon four hours' notice, was held last evening in the large hall of the Catholic Institute, Jersey City, to ratify the nomination of CORNELIUS WALSH for Governor of the State. Before the time for opening, the hall was packed to its utmost capacity with a highly-respectable audience, including many ladies, and over 1,000 people were unable to gain admittance.

The nominee, Mr. WALSH, and Gen. KILPATRICK, his opponent in the Convention, were present, and were greeted with the utmost enthusiasm.

Ex-Mayor GOPSIL presided, and introduced Mr. WALSH, who was received with rounds of cheers.

Mr. WALSH expressed his thanks at this hearty welcome, and was overwhelmed to see so immense a gathering so few hours after the meeting of the Nominating Convention, and said that it augured success in the coming contest. Work was to be the motto for the next two months, and he for one should work with heart and hand until the close of the contest. He thanked them for this demonstration, which would thrill all Republicans throughout the State.

Major PANGBORN presented the following resolutions:

Resolved, That the Republicans of Jersey City welcome the contest in which they are now summoned to enter against their old enemy, the Democratic Party, which they have so often defeated, but which defeat neither chastens, purifies, nor reforms.

Resolved, That we have no "new departure" to make, but adhering to the well-known and well-tried principles of pure Republicanism, freedom, justice and equal rights for all men, and appealing confidently to the record of the good works of our party in the nation and State, we ask the people of the State of New-Jersey to sustain us by their suffrage.

Resolved, That in CORNELIUS WALSH, the candidate for Governor, we have a citizen of the highest character, of integrity and record unimpeachable; a Republican whose fidelity has been proved by long and faithful service; a man who deserves and possesses the confidence of the people, and who, as Governor of this ancient Commonwealth, will guard well her interests, and will reflect honor on those who honor him with high public trust.

Resolved, That, united and determined to win, we will win in this contest, and that is the line on which we mean to fight it out, and no other.

The resolutions were adopted, amid great enthusiasm, without a dissenting voice.

Gen. KILPATRICK being introduced, was received with hearty applause. He said that he rejoiced to see congregated on so short a notice so vast an assemblage. After sleeping over yesterday's proceedings at Trenton, he had resolved to come into New-Jersey to work for the cause. They had assembled there to proclaim to the people of New-Jersey, both Democrats and Republicans, that his friends who had followed him would now go further, and do more to make CORNELIUS WALSH Governor of New-Jersey (cheers) than if he had been their first choice. Let me say to you, (said Gen. KILPATRICK, turning to Mr. WALSH,) if I had known that you were to be a candidate, I should not have been a candidate against you. You have been unswerving in your fidelity to the cause of Republicanism, and if elected it will only be a glorious reward for your unswerving devotion to the cause. The General spoke on national affairs, and scouted the idea of centralization of power. He was frequently applauded.

Major Z. K. PANGBORN, of the Evening Journal, next addressed the assemblage, speaking eloquently, and holding the audience in close attention. His remarks were telling, and frequently applauded.

The meeting broke up with nine cheers.

Mayor Hall on Judge Barnard's Injunction—It is "All a Joke."

From Yesterday's Sun.

"The first thing I have to say about it," said Mayor HALL to a Sun man who called at his office to learn his opinion of Mr. FOLEY'S proceedings before Judge BARNARD—"the first thing I have to say about it is, that the complaint and the statement of the plaintiff's counsel, as reported in the evening papers, are sheer nonsense. There are not ten lines of truth in them. Bills in chancery—and every equitable proceeding is in the nature of a bill in chancery—are always romances. FOLEY is a crazy fellow who, I have been told, claims to be a lineal descendant of the daring youth who fired the Ephesian dome. In its practical effect, the granting of the injunction is one of Judge BARNARD'S stereotyped jokes, because all the bonds we have been authorized to emit have already been issued, except the Viaduct Railroad bonds and those to provide for future purchases of ponds to reinforce the Croton Lake. Judge BARNARD could, of course, only take judicial notice of what appeared on the face of the papers before him. De non apparentibus, et de non existentibus eadem est ratio—things that don't appear, in law are regarded as if they do not exist, is an old legal principle, you know. A Judge may know an order is absurd, and yet on the papers be obliged to grant it.

SUN MAN—Who will appear on Monday to oppose the application to continue the injunction?

Mayor HALL—The Corporation Counsel, Mr. O'GORMAN, and able lawyers who will be associated with him. A complete exposition of the whole matter will be made; that is if service of process shall be effected in time. They have got to serve—but I will not use the Sun to teach those gentlemen their law. The chances are that they will not make good service. We shall be ready. FOLEY thought that he had planted the nettle danger in the Court-house; but from what I know of farming, I think we shall pluck the flower safety from it.

SUN MAN—What I want to get at, your Honor, is how you all feel about the movement. Please tell me that.

HOW THE MAYOR FEELS ABOUT IT.

Mayor HALL—For my part, I think it is of positive service to the City Government. I am officially thankful that it has been made. It gives the City authorities a dignified opportunity to make a full statement of the facts of the case. We shall give a full history of the issuing of bonds. There has been a great deal of romancing on that subject in the papers. The bonds are ministerially issued by us. They might as well blackguard BOUTWELL, SPINNER and ALLISON for issuing the bonds and currency of the United States. We have no power to issue bonds except as the Legislature directs us to do so. * * * If the injunction had been granted restraining the payment of current expenses, the cleansing of the streets would have had to be stopped, gas companies might have refused to light the streets, health inspectors would have had to be discharged, six or eight thousand workmen on the parks and other public works would have had to be discharged, work on the docks would have had to be stopped, and the tendency would have been to promote disorder. * * *

Even if the injunction had been granted restraining the payment of current expenses by the Controller, while the situation desired by the Jones party might have reacted to the political advantage of the Democracy by suffering a temporary chaos, yet I had taken measures to even then protect the laborers and the citizens. Banks and individuals stand ready to advance all the money necessary, and at all hazards I determined to preserve the good name and tranquillity of the city.

MAYOR HALL INTENDS TO RUN AGAIN.

I intend to fill out my term of office. I have a year and a half yet. I did intend to retire from official political life, enter journalism, and work as a private for others, in gratitude for what they have done for me. Now, however, circumstances of self-respect demand that I should again become a candidate, and let the people pass on my administration under the new régime as contradistinguished from the old one.

NEW PUBLICATIONS.

PUBLISHER'S ANNUAL LETTER
TO TEACHERS AND SCHOOL OFFICERS:

OFFICE OF THE "NATIONAL SERIES,"
NEW-YORK, Aug. 15, 1871.

FRIENDS:

At the appropriate season of the year for improvements in your courses of study, we beg to enumerate some particulars of the progress which is being made in the preparation of

THE BEST AIDS TO TEACHING.

The skilled workman without proper tools is at a loss; so those who train the young mind lament to find their efficiency impaired by inadequate text-books, or those which do not represent the LATEST CONDITION OF KNOWLEDGE.

In the endeavor to furnish a standard series of which these complaints may not be made, the publishers who have the honor to subscribe have invested large experience, capital, and energy, and point to the crowning result of their labors with

A JUSTIFIABLE PRIDE.

The "National Series of Text-books," which they have slowly accumulated, comprises more volumes than any other series, and, what is better, a greater number that have proved themselves

ACCEPTABLE TO TEACHER AND LEARNER.

Their list of authors includes the ripest and most illustrious names on the roster of American pedagogy. The masterpieces of such writers as David P. Page, Mrs. Emma Willard, Charles D. Cleveland, William B. Fowle, John A. Porter, and Richard G. Parker, among those who in their works, (though revised, if necessary, by tender and appreciative hands,) are found side by side with the later productions of such as Charles Northend, William G. Peck, Joseph Alden, Edward Jarvis, Alphonso Wood, Edward Mansfield, J. T. Champlin, Ira Mayhew, Henry Barnard, A. S. Welch, and others, among

EMINENT LIVING EDUCATORS.

The first place is occupied, as ever, by the magnificent system of Consecutive Mathematics, upon which all others are based, and which are yet, in the progress of editions, under the vigorous and learned author's eye, still ahead of all. These bear the honored name of

CHARLES DAVIES, LL.D.

Next come those practicable and teachable Geographies, with "no nonsense about them," for which Mr. James Monteith is responsible. The educational authorities of twelve States, when empowered to do so by law, have zealously adopted them for uniform use. Among the latest verdicts is that of Texas, (July, 1871,) and this great State adopts also, with equal discrimination and good taste,

WATSON'S ELEGANT NEW READERS,

known as "Independent Readers." These beautiful books are loudly praised for their method, their pictures and type, their new selections, their available size, and their low price. "Sausage Links" allure the learner more than ever in the attractive pages of

CLARK'S NEW NORMAL GRAMMAR.

Here the dry bones of English speech cease to rattle in disorder and dismay, and arrange themselves without half trying. A loud call has been heard for short, simple books in Science, for grammar schools, that should still be redeemed from childishness.

YOUNG DR. J. D. STEELE

set himself to remedy that, and has leaped into fame with his already celebrated "Fourteen Weeks" books in each science. The last was Geology. This awakened enthusiasm for "a new departure" in other branches, and among the first fruits is a truly delightful book, embracing the whole subject of United States History in 200 pages of text, yet replete with anecdote and illustration, and written in a most fascinating style. It contains no less than seventeen entirely original features.

"BARNES' BRIEF HISTORY,"

OTHER NEW BOOKS

are "Chapman's Elementary Drawing Book," a text-book for scholars, by the standard American authority in Art; Woman's German Copy-book, on a new plan of progressive development; and nearly ready are Monteith's Comprehensive Geography, or all branches of that science in one volume, for intermediate classes; Dickens' "School and School-masters," and Folsom's Logical Book-keeping.

IMPROVED FURNITURE.

In pursuance of a design to furnish complete material for schools, we have organized the National School Furniture Company, for the manufacture of the celebrated Peard Patents; notably the new by which the school-room may be at once converted into an audience-room, again, by folding the seat, each piece occupies but ten inches of space. Over five thousand of these have already been sold.

THE SCIENCE OF A NEW LIFE.

By JOHN COWAN, M. D.

"To a correct understanding of the laws pre-natal and post-natal, as also to a more thorough comprehension of what marriage should be, and what it should accomplish for mutual happiness, these 405 octavo pages by Dr. COWAN must greatly conduce. They are devoted to topics concerning which no person arrived at years of thoughtfulness should be ignorant. They treat of these topics in a plain, sensible manner, in language that none but a prude can object to. Could the book be placed in the hands of every young person contemplating matrimony it would assuredly do much good."—Moore's Rural New-Yorker.

BRYANT'S ODYSSEY OF HOMER.
STODDARD'S NEW VOLUME OF POEMS.
GEORGE SAND.—A FRESH NOVEL.

PUBLISHED THIS DAY:

I. THE ODYSSEY OF HOMER.

Translated by WILLIAM CULLEN BRYANT. First volume. Royal 8vo. Uniform with Bryant's "Iliad." $5.

[Vol. 2, completing the work, will be published the coming Winter.]

The method and form of Mr. BRYANT'S translation of the "Odyssey" are the same that were used in his translation of the "Iliad," which has won the heartiest praise from competent critics both in Europe and America as the best English rendering of the immortal Greek epic. His present work is of the same high order of excellence, and will doubtless be accepted as the standard English version of the "Odyssey."

II. THE BOOK OF THE EAST.

And other Poems. By RICHARD HENRY STODDARD. 1 vol. 16mo. $1 50.

This volume contains, under the title of "The Book of the East," translations of a choice selection of Persian, Tartar, Arab and Chinese Songs; it has also a large number of Poems never before collected, which will be warmly greeted by the author's numerous admirers.

"Mr. Stoddard's vocation to poetry is clearly stamped on his productions. Combining great spontaneity of feeling with careful and elaborate composition, he not only shows a native instinct of verse, but a lofty ideal of poetry. His fancy is rich in images of gorgeous and delicate beauty; a deep vein of reflection underlies his boldest excursions; and on themes of tender and pathetic interest his words murmur a plaintive melody that reaches the hidden sources of tears."—Harper's Magazine.

III. A ROLLING STONE.

A Novel. By GEORGE SAND. Translated by CARROLL OWEN. 1 vol. 8vo. Paper, 50 cents; cloth, $1.

This is another of those powerful and attractive stories by which George Sand has charmed and compelled the admiration of the reading world. Thought, sentiment and passion combine to enlist the attention which this story will amply repay.

D. APPLETON & CO.
NOS. 549 AND 551 BROADWAY, NEW-YORK,
PUBLISHED THIS DAY:

I.

THE MANAGEMENT OF INFANCY,
PHYSIOLOGICAL AND MORAL.

Intended chiefly for the use of parents. By ANDREW COMBE, M. D. Revised and edited by Sir JAMES CLARKE, Physician in Ordinary to the Queen. From the tenth London edition. 12 mo. Price, $1 50.

From the London Lancet.

This excellent little book should be in the hands of every mother of a family; and if some of our ladies would master its contents, and either bring up their children by the light of its teachings—giving a practical illustration of the advantages of sound physical and moral training to their offspring—or communicate the truths it contains to the poor by whom they are surrounded, we are convinced that they would effect infinitely more good than by the distribution of any number of tracts whatever.

II.

APPLETONS'
HAND-BOOK OF AMERICAN TRAVEL.
WESTERN TOUR.

Containing full Description of all Through Routes from the Eastern Cities to the West and Far West, the great Lake and River Routes, and all Local Routes west of New-York. With Maps of States, Routes, and Cities. Uniform with "Hand-Book of Travel, Eastern Tour." 12mo. Flexible cloth, Price, $2.

This work is the most complete hand-book of the Western country published. It is a guide not only to the traveler on the through routes of travel, but gives full particulars of all local routes. Its fullness in relation to the famous localities on the Pacific, such as Yosemite Valley and the "big trees," renders it of great value to every person visiting the far West. It contains descriptions of the lakes and rivers, of the towns and cities, of the mountain regions and the "plains," of the mines, and general resources of all the great Western country, and gives the reader, whether traveler or not, as complete information as possible in regard to the sections of country it purports to cover. It was written entirely anew for the present season, and each locality revised by a person resident there.

III.

MARTIN CHUZZLEWIT.

Being the fourth issue of the new "Handy Volume" edition of the works of Charles Dickens. Published in cloth, extra, handsomely stamped. 12mo. With Illustrations. To be completed in fourteen volumes—two volumes issued a month until completed. IV.

SIR JAS. Y. SIMPSON'S
SELECTED
OBSTETRICAL AND GYNÆCOLOGICAL
WORKS.

Edited by J. Watt Black, M. D., Physician-Accoucheur to Charing Cross Hospital. 8vo, 852 pp. Price $5.

From the Medical Times, London.

The way in which Dr. Black has performed his task justifies the confidence placed in him by Sir James Simpson's representatives. While the book before us contains the most important of Sir James' contributions to the study of midwifery and female diseases, which, in some form or other, were already before the public, it has the additional merit of bringing to light, for the first time, his original "Lecture Notes," on which was founded his course on midwifery.

NEW AUTUMN BOOKS.

HURD & HOUGHTON,
NO. 13 ASTOR-PLACE, NEW-YORK,
THE RIVERSIDE PRESS, CAMBRIDGE, MASS.,
PUBLISH THIS DAY:

1. PICTURES OF TRAVEL in Sweden, among the Hartz Mountains, and in Switzerland; with a visit at Charles Dickens' house. By HANS CHRISTIAN ANDERSEN. In one volume, crown 8vo, cloth. Price $1 75.

This volume completes the series of Andersen's writings, (10 volumes, $18 75,) issued by arrangement with the author.

2. THE LAST KNIGHT: A Romance Garland. From the German of ANASTATIUS GRUN. Translated with notes by JOHN O. SARGENT. In one volume, 4to. Price $2 50.

"The Last Knight" is a series of ballads founded on incidents in the life of the Emperor Maximilian I., and forming a national poem which has given the author his chief and deserved celebrity.

3. THE FABLES OF PILPAY. Copiously illustrated. In one volume, 16mo. $1 50.

This edition of Pilpay's Fables, the first issued in America, is uniform with Hurd & Houghton's edition of Æsop. The ancient and wide-spread popularity of these Hindu stories will insure them a cordial reception in their new dress. Fresh attention has been called of late to the remarkable character of these Fables, and the difference between these and Æsop's is in favor of the former, so far as good story-telling is concerned. The engravings were executed by the eminent engraver in wood, Alexander Anderson.

THE SAME. Large paper edition, 100 copies only, printed on hand-press, cloth, extra. (Nearly ready.)

4. STORIES FROM OLD ENGLISH POETRY. By ABBY SAGE RICHARDSON. Illustrated. One volume, 16mo. Price $1 50.

The stories have been told anew from the most famous and most beautiful of the classic dramas and poems in the English language. Shakespeare, Chaucer, Spenser, and other lesser poets, have been drawn from, and there could be no more delightful introduction to the wealth of early English literature than is here given.

5. FOUR, AND WHAT THEY DID. By HELEN C. WEEKS, author of "Ainslee," "Grandpa's House," and "White and Red." With Illustrations. In one volume, 16mo. Price $1 25.

Mrs. Weeks needs no introduction to those acquainted with the Ainslee Stories, as one of the brightest, most entertaining and most natural of writers for the young. These stories have their scenes laid chiefly in the West, and will be found very successful in catching the spirit of child life on the prairies and in new settlements.

6. POPULAR EDITION OF MOTHER GOOSE'S MELODIES FOR CHILDREN; OR, SONGS FOR THE NURSERY. A complete revised edition, with an account of the Goose or Vergoose Family. Illustrated by eighteen full-page illustrations, by HENRY L. STEPHENS; ten pages of music by CHARLES MOULTON, and twelve smaller Illustrations, by GASTON FAY. In one volume, 8vo. Price, in cloth, $1 75.

Business at the Exchange, yesterday, Sept. 8, was devoid of interest, no transactions being effected, and but comparatively few persons being in attendance during the day. For to-day no sales are proposed, and the market closes quiet and dull. DINGEE & CO., auctioneers, and at Passaic, N. J., on Thursday, conducted by A. D. MELLICK, JR., & BROTHER. EIGHT PER CENT. First Mortgage Bonds

MOBILE & MONTGOMERY RAILROAD COMPANY,
Indorsed by State of Alabama.
PRINCIPALL AND INTEREST PAYABLE IN GOLD.

After a careful examination, we confidently recommend these bonds, because—

1. They are a first mortgage upon a road already completed and in successful operation, with net earnings, well established for several years, at MUCH MORE THAN ENOUGH TO PAY THE INTEREST on all the bonds authorized to be issued.

2. The proceeds of these bonds will complete an extension of fifteen miles of heavy work from Tensas into the City of Mobile, DISPENSING WITH THE PRESENT STEAM-BOAT SERVICE, CURTAILING EXPENSE AND INCREASING EFFICIENCY OF THE ROAD.

3. The road is 182 miles long. Entire mortgage, $2,500,000, or a little over $13,000 PER MILE; COST OF ROAD OVER $30,000 PER MILE.

4. It connects MOBILE and MONTGOMERY, and is a link in the route from NEW-ORLEANS to NEW-YORK, and also between the GULF and LOUISVILLE, by the insured completion of the road from MONTGOMERY north to DECATUR, being built by the LOUISVILLE AND NASHVILLE RAILROAD COMPANY, who thus display their estimate of the value of the route.

5. They are indorsed and guaranteed by the STATE OF ALABAMA, the value of whose indorsement has been recently tested and fully established.

6. Some of the most careful investors in ENGLAND and this country, after investigation, have bought these bonds for permanent investment, so that now only about $150,000 are on the market, which are for sale at present at 95 and ACCRUED INTEREST, by

Connecticut Valley Railroad Company BONDS!

Proposals will be received at the Connecticut River Banking Company, in Hartford, until 3 o'clock P. M. Saturday, Sept. 23, 1871, for the purchase of the whole or any part of

ONE MILLION DOLLARS

Of the First Mortgage Seven per Cent. Non-Taxable Bonds of the Connecticut Valley Railroad Company.

This is the whole issue, the first and only mortgage, and covers the entire property, equipment and franchise of the road.

The railroad has been built with cash subscriptions to the stock.

The Capital Stock is $1,500,000.

The amount paid in is $1,200,000, and the Bonds are issued for the complete and thorough equipment of the road.

These Bonds are payable thirty years from Jan. 1, 1871.

They are registered at the office of the Controller of the State of Connecticut, and are free from all taxes, State, municipal, and income.

They are in denominations of $1,000 each, with interest coupons attached, payable semi-annually, in January and July at the American Exchange National Bank, New-York, or Connecticut River Banking Company, Hartford, Conn.

They can be registered, if desired, and when registered, the coupons are payable to the order of the registered holder thereof.

The line of the road is on the west bank of the Connecticut River, is forty-four miles in length, extending from Hartford to Saybrook on the Sound—touching all the important towns and villages on the route.

Regular passenger-trains were running within fifteen months from the beginning of work on the road, the daily receipts from which are nearly equal to the interest on the Mortgage Bonds.

Two additional passenger-trains and also freight-trains, will be in operation by Oct. 1, 1871, and it is affirmed that the Winter traffic will be large.

A certified check or currency for ten per cent. of the par value of Bonds applied for must be inclosed with each application.

The accrued interest will be added to all accepted proposals, from July 1, 1871, until the final payment, WHICH MAY BE AT THE OPTION OF THE PURCHASER, until and including Oct. 10, 1871.

The sum advanced on proposals declined will be promptly returned.

Proposals may be addressed to

JOHN A. BUTLER,

Principal due 1st January, 1888, and coupons payable in New-York 1st January and 1st July.

These bonds are secured by mortgage in pursuance of a deed executed on the 1st of January, 1868, in which Henry Gourdin, H. P. Walker and James M. Calder are named trustees, being the only mortgage lien on the railway and rolling stock of the corporation, and are part of an issue made in conversion of sterling bonds amounting to £619,500 sterling, being the equivalent in United States currency to about $3,100,000, and less than $13,000 per mile, the length of railway being 243 miles.

The gross receipts of the Company for 1870 amounted to $1,468,340 53; operating expenses and renewals, $916,095 82, showing a profit of $552,244 71, or $335,244 71 in excess of its annual interest of 7 per cent. on $3,100,000 First Mortgage Bonds.

First Mortgage, Convertible, 7 Per Cent. Gold Bonds

OF THE

PEORIA & ROCK ISLAND RAILWAY

OF ILLINOIS.

First Mortgage Bonds - - - $1,500,000
Capital Stock - - - - - - - - 2,000,000

This is a COMPLETED Road 91 miles in length, connecting the important Cities of Peoria on the Illinois River, and Rock Island, Moline and Davenport, on the Mississippi. Davenport, on the opposite bank of the river, is connected by a railway bridge. The last rail of this road was laid July 7, 1871, and the line is now open and being operated with a success exceeding all anticipation. In order to place upon the road the large equipment necessary for the business offered, and to construct depots, car and engine-houses, machine-shops, &c., equal to any of the best old roads in the country, as is now required of this, the Company offer, through the undersigned, $1,500,000 convertible first mortgage gold bonds, which cover the entire property of the Company, and is less than $17,000 per mile. PRESENT PRICE, 90, AND ACCRUED INTEREST IN CURRENCY. Principal and interest payable in coin at New-York or London, free of tax.

This road, opened for the immense local as well as through traffic, now offered, will prove one of the most profitable in the West, traversing as it does a section of country unsurpassed in fertility of soil and agricultural resources, already thickly populated and in a high state of cultivation. This is self-evident from the fact that every section of the road passes through cultivated fields and many flourishing towns and villages, with a large city and navigable river at each end. Railroads in the West have been heretofore constructed through unsettled and uncultivated regions of the country, consequently have had but little local traffic to depend upon for several years after construction. But the Peoria and Rock Island Railway is a first class COMPLETED road, with NO PARALLEL or COMPETING LINE, and RUNS THROUGH ONE OF THE RICHEST AGRICULTURAL, MANUFACTURING AND MOST POPULOUS DISTRICTS IN THE WEST. Thus it is certain that the local business is already more than enough to sustain the road, while the through traffic is unlimited, as its connections are numerous, which can be seen by a glance at the map.

This road is a grand central link, to which many of the principal lines centralize and diverge to all parts of the continent.

We invite the attention of investors to this loan Being familiar with the wealth and resources of the country along the line of this railway and A MEMBER OF OUR FIRM HAVING MADE A CAREFUL EXAMINATION OF THE ROAD AND ITS PROPERTY, WE CAN WITH THE UTMOST CONFIDENCE RECOMMEND THE BONDS AS A PRIME SECURITY, reliable and safe in every particular.

All marketable securities received in exchange at full rates, and bonds delivered to all parts of the country, free of express charges.

Maps, circulars, &c., with full particulars relating to the road, furnished on application by the undersigned, Financial Agents of the Company.

A WESTCHESTER MYSTERY.

A Supposed Murder in Westchester County Twenty Years Ago—Bones of the Dead Man Exhumed.

The old adage that "murder will out" seems to be pretty well verified in a case now under investigation by Coroner MEEKS, of Mount Vernon, aided by private detective THOMAS SLOWEY, of New-York, and Constable WILLIAM WATTS of Mount Vernon.

It appears that some eighteen to twenty years ago, a journeyman shoe-maker named THOMAS BROWN, then in the employ of EPHRIAM JONES, who for a period of ten or twelve years carried on the manufacture of boots and shoes for New-York City stores in a pleasant and quiet neighborhood about half a mile west of the Unionville Station of the Harlem Railroad, mysteriously disappeared from the place. No one seemed to know how or when he went away, and Mr. JONES, when questioned about the whereabouts of BROWN, merely remarked that he had been told that BROWN had died of delirium tremens in New-York. The neighbors took it for granted that Mr. JONES had received definite information on the subject, and therefore ceased to think of BROWN's sudden exit from the village. Various circumstances connected with the domestic affairs of Mr. JONES kept his name before the residents of that quiet section of Westchester County in an unenviable light. Mr. JONES had previously lived at Randolph, Mass., where his first wife had left him. His second wife died after he removed to Unionville and suffering much from the treatment she received. He subsequently married Miss EMILY POWELL, daughter of Mr. FLOYD POWELL, a resident of the town of Mount Pleasant; but they did not live happily, and she was obliged to flee from his roof. Mr. JONES becoming too old (now seventy years) to pursue an active business life gave it up, and about two years ago sold a few acres of land to Mr. CLARK, who in turn sold a portion of his purchase to Mr. MOSES W. TAYLOR in the month of March or April last. Mr. TAYLOR commenced at once to erect a handsome residence and improve the grounds. Mr. EDWARD CYPHER, on digging holes for the posts of a rail fence between the garden of Mr. JONES and Mr. TAYLOR, found portions of a human skeleton, with the skull near the knee joints, as though the body, while yet warm and flexible, had been crammed into the least possible space; and as the spot where the bones were found was immediately under that point which had been covered by the south-west corner of JONES' old workshop, it occurred to the minds of the people in the neighborhood that the bones in question were those of the missing TOM BROWN. Mr. JONES was requested to come and look at them, but none could persuade them to do so. Notwithstanding the firm conviction of the residents of Unionville that a murder had been committed, and that TOM BROWN was the victim, each left it for his neighbor to place the facts before the proper authorities, and thus the case was neglected until Mr. SLOWEY obtained some information on the subject, and communicated the same to Coroner MEEKS, who proceeded at once to make an investigation in the matter. On going to Unionville yesterday, and gathering some additional facts relative to the finding of the skeleton and the antecedents of Mr. JONES, the bones in question were exhumed by order of the Coroner. The principal bones of the legs and arms, pieces of the skull, also pieces of the jaw with nine teeth were found, and taken charge of by the Coroner. Mr. JONES was interrogated at considerable length, without any satisfactory result. The case will be further investigated.

Exciting Episode in the Hicks Case.

An abrupt conclusion of the Hicks case was reached yesterday before the Police Commissioners. At the last hearing Mr. JOHN FOLEY produced several witnesses by whose testimony he fully established his charge that Sergt. HICKS, of the Twenty-third Precinct, had permitted a gang of Tammany roughs to break up a meeting of the East-side Association, called to denounce the corruptions of the Ring. The case was then adjourned until yesterday, to give Sergt. HICKS an opportunity to produce further testimony in his behalf. Mr. FOLEY appeared in Court at the designated hour but Sergt. HICKS was not present, and Mr. FOLEY was about to make some remarks upon the case when he was interrupted by Mr. MANIERRE, who stated that the Board did not permit arguments by counsel. Mr. FOLEY however proceeded, notwithstanding this interruption, and said "the detendant is not present and by some hocus pocus," when the following conversation occurred:

Mr. MANIERRE—Stop there, Mr. FOLEY. When you charge the Police Board with "hocus pocus" you cannot be heard further.

Mr. FOLEY—Well, Sir, it is very strange that I can never meet this Sergt. HICKS here. I should judge from the reports in the papers that I was on trial here instead of him.

Mr. MANIERRE—Sergt. HICKS was here on the first day, and must be satisfied with the testimony, or he would be here now. There has been nothing in the proceedings to be construed as showing that you were on trial.

Mr. FOLEY—Yes, I was. You allowed a fellow to call me a fraud here; a fellow who is on the City pay-roll.

At this point Mr. WILKS jumped from his seat and exclaimed: "Come outside and say that if you dare. I say you lie, and I'll prove it." A man named MCCLELLAN also exclaimed: "And I say you lie." Great confusion ensued, and, at the order of the Court officer, all the parties left the room. In the corridor WILKS repeated his expression, when Mr. FOLEY said that he had been credibly informed of the fact he had stated. A serious disturbance of the peace was imminent, but at this moment the parties were separated by the Police and got out of the building without again coming in collision. After their exit from the Court-room, there being no additional testimony to be offered, the case was referred to the Board, and it was intimated that a decision would be rendered today.

Dedication of a New Synagogue.

The dedication of the plain and neat brick structure in Fifty-seventh-street, between First and Second avenues, known as the Synagogue of the "Adath Israel," or Congregation in Israel, was witnessed yesterday afternoon by a large number of persons belonging to the Hebrew faith. The building is 50 feet front, 70 feet deep, and cost $30,000. It was erected for the use of the congregation who recently worshiped in Brevoort Hall, in East Fifty-fourth-street. The dedication ceremonies proved to be of a highly interesting character. They commenced by the entrance of a procession of Rabbis and scroll-bearers through the portals of the synagogue, and by the singing of a hymn by a choir of boys under the leadership of Mr. JOSEPH KOPPELL. Instrumental music was also performed by a band conducted by Mr. CRACKAW. The procession passed up to the altar, and the scrolls were deposited in the Ark. After the blessing of the Creator had been invoked, the scrolls were taken from the Ark and were carried around the synagogue five times. Rev. Dr. ISAACS, of the Thirty-fourth-street synagogue officiated as Hazzon. An oration was delivered by Rev. Dr. VIDAVER, in English, and one by Rev. Dr. WASSERMAN, in German, the former clergyman speaking of the objects of the synagogue, and explaining the Jewish doctrines. The following is a list of the Trustees of the synagogue: G. SILVERBERG, President; G. NORTHEIM, Secretary; J. KATZ and A. MONHEIMER.

Official Advertising.

In Supreme Court, Chambers, yesterday, a motion was made before Judge BARNARD to postpone a sale of real estate under foreclosure for two weeks. Mr. FRANK BYRNE, who appeared on behalf of the motion, stated as a reason for the postponement, that though the sale had been advertised for three weeks, as required by law, yet it was advertised only in the New-York Transcript, and might as well have been advertised in the Christian Observer, which nobody reads.

Judge BARNARD suggested that the law required that it be advertised in the Transcript.

Mr. BYRNE replied, that he believed they had in some way fixed it at Albany, but what he desired was to have the property advertised in some paper of general circulation, which his clients intended to do at their own expense.

Counsel opposed to the motion, represented to the Court that the property could not bring more than half the amount of the judgment in any event; that they had conformed to the law, and any delay would be prejudicial to the rights of his client.

The motion was denied.

Educational Scheme in Brooklyn.

In connection with the Mechanics' and Traders' Exchange of Brooklyn, which has prospered remarkably since its establishment in July, it is proposed to establish an apprentices' library and also an evening school for the benefit of the employes of members of the Exchange. Several architects have volunteered to teach the pupils drawing free of charge, and a number of teachers in public schools have also offered their services gratis. A committee is now considering a plan for the establishment of a Mechanics' and Traders' Exchange Bank, the stock of which is to be exclusively owned by the Association. All receipts above seven per cent. on stock it is proposed to devote to the education of employes of members.

Kings County Supervisors.

The Kings County Supervisors, at their meeting last evening, received a communication from JOHN CUNNINGHAM, keeper of the County Penitentiary, calling attention to the overcrowded condition of that edifice. He states that the building has 222 cells for males and 180 cells for females, and, as the number of prisoners at present is 240 males and 140 females, it is necessary in some cases to place more than one convict in a cell, which the keeper considers detrimental to discipline. The subject was referred to the Penitentiary Committee for report. The Committee appointed to confer with the State Board of Assessors on equalizing the assessment on Kings County real estate for State purposes rendered its report, the substance of which has already been published. The Board adjourned to the 20th inst.

The Injunction Against the City.

A number of persons called at the Controller's office yesterday for warrants, and were informed that the injunction issued by Justice BARNARD would prevent any payments being made by the department for the present. Otherwise, there was no change in the usual business of the office. The Board of Apportionment met in secret session at 3 P. M. Nothing could be learned of the nature of the business transacted.

NOTES FROM THE PEOPLE.

Indecent Advertisements.

To the Editor of the New-York Times:

I give you my humble thanks for calling public attention to the abominable advertisements published daily in the Herald, and through which it deliberately aids and abets lust, abortion and murder. Equally do I feel grateful for the fearless language of Judge TROY, of Brooklyn, to the Grand Jury in reference to the same paper. This upright man declares the Press soiled by such advertisements, and that it inflicts dishonor on itself "by standing ready for the mercenary consideration of a mean pecuniary compensation to act as the auxiliary confederate and accessory of the class of foul and homicidal miscreants," i. e., abortionists. How can this practice be put a stop to? Not by public opinion alone—for, with shame, be it acknowledged, the disreputable newspapers and men of this City are numerous, wealthy and influential enough to defy public opinion; they affect not to heed it, and they continue, in spite of it, their many villanies, as though public indignation at wrong-doing were a matter to be laughed at. And so the Herald persists in inserting the advertisements of pimps, procuresses and abortionists, despite the rebukes and warnings administered to it during the last week. We have fallen on evil days. Bad men have combined and organized a determined effort to fatten and gorge on the ruin of the credit, liberties and morals of this country. It would seem the work is distributed among them according to their tastes. To TWEED and HALL is given the task of accomplishing the ruin of its credit and liberties, but to the Herald the opprobrious part of assailing the chastity of young women and of corrupting the honor and chivalry of young men. What father of a family can admit this paper into his house without fear and trembling, for every morning it tempts his daughter to lust, and teaches his son a contempt for the convictions of honest men and for the decencies of society? Finally, such a paper corrupts the morals of citizens generally by its cynical, sneering way of alluding to the dishonesty prevailing among our public servants. It seems actually to rejoice with devilish glee over the moral and political ruin it is helping to make. In the Pecksniffian articles of the Herald we are mocked with crocodile tears; and, like the worst of all hypocrites, it affects to deplore a state of society which it has helped to make. I repeat, how can the practice of advertising lust and murder be put a stop to? Judge TROY says there is no law by which such papers as the Herald can be punished. Will the Grand Jury recommend that such a law be enacted? But you, Mr. Editor, and Judge TROY, and all other rebukers of licentiousness and of the soul-killing worship of the golden calf, deserve the heartfelt gratitude and steady encouragement of all who deplore the success nowadays of bold, bad men, and bold, bad principles.

Not an Office-Holder.

To the Editor of the New-York Times:

In the letter of Hon. HORACE GREELEY, published last Saturday, in which he gives a list of names of delegates to the Republican Central Committee of this City, whom he states hold office under the Federal Administration, I notice my name as office-holder in the Custom-house. I desire most respectfully to contradict the statement, as I never held an office of any kind; neither am I an applicant. Nevertheless, I consider it an honor to any gentleman who does hold office under so honest and economical an Administration as that of our unparalleled President, U. S. GRANT. I also notice the names of two gentlemen from the same district who are not delegates at all. Out of twelve delegates to the Central Committee from the Eleventh District, there are but two who hold office, and they are under the Republican Administration, and not Tammany Hall.

By giving space to the above in your valuable columns you will confer a favor on

D. G. McKELVEY, JR.,
Delegate to Republican Central Committee,
Eleventh Assembly District, New-York.

Connolly's Carriages and Tweed's Real Estate.

To the Editor of the New-York Times:

In speaking of the charges for "carriage hire to Controller's office," ($9,651,) you add: "Mr. CONNOLLY, it is said by one of his apologists, does not keep a private carriage." Such is not the fact; he has a variety of carriages, and can be seen in the Park with his double team, or on Broadway in his coupé, with liveried driver, &c., almost daily. I notice among transfers of real estate: "Friday, Aug. 4, Fifty-seventh-street, north side, twenty-five feet west of Ninth-avenue, WILLIAM M. TWEED to MICHAEL W. DURHAM, $300,000." What is the matter? Is the Boss going to put his (our) real estate in his pocket to prevent his being obliged by process of law to deliver it up to the City as a part of his stealings? Cannot an injunction be obtained to prevent him and his Co. from making such transfers until an investigation shall show in whom the title rests?

TAX-PAYER.

NEW-YORK, Tuesday, Sept. 5, 1871.

Which Is the Chief?

To the Editor of the New-York Times:

The office of Chamberlain was created by the old Dongan Charter, which appointed "PETER DE LANOY, citizen and inhabitant of the said City, to be the present Chamberlain or Treasurer of the City aforesaid."

By an act of the Legislature, passed April 9, 1813, the Chamberlain of the City of New-York was required, in respect to all moneys levied and collected, and also in respect to all moneys to be levied and collected in said City, for the use of the State, to perform the like duties as the Treasurers of the several counties of this State are required to do and perform.

By another act, (Second Revised Laws, 399, section 151,) "The Chamberlain of the City and County of New-York shall be considered the County Treasurer thereof."

By the amended charter of 1857, chapter 446, section 22, there was established a bureau in the Department of Finance, "for the reception of all moneys paid into the Treasury of the City, and for the payment of moneys on the warrants drawn by the Controller, and countersigned by the Mayor and Clerk of the Common Council; and the chief officer thereof shall be called the 'Chamberlain of the City of New-York.' The Chamberlain shall keep books showing the amounts paid on account of the several appropriations; and no warrants shall be paid on account of any appropriations, after the amount authorized to be raised by tax for that specific purpose shall have been expended."

With some unimportant changes and modifications this is the law under and in pursuance of which the officers of the City and County Government have been authorized to conduct this "Bureau" of the "Department of Finance."

This "Bureau" was and is the place of deposit of all moneys, and all moneys unlawfully abstracted therefrom are chargeable to the officers thereof. Each one of those infamous warrants was passed upon and approved by the Chamberlain before one cent of the money could have been stolen by a thief or divided among thieves.

The old Citizens' Association did some good service in the days of its youth, one item of which was, with the aid of the able counselor it then employed, to extract a confession from the Chamberlain of that day that he was defrauding the City and County out of the entire income from its great deposits, and under a threat of an immediate application to an Equity Court to enjoin further misappropriation, and for an accounting, that officer consented to make a voluntary accounting thereafter, and pay the City its due. How fully or fairly that plain duty has since been fulfilled it is yet impossible to ascertain.

The County Tax Levy of 1867, section 4, provided that "the County Treasurer (Chamberlain) of the County of New-York shall hereafter be entitled to receive and retain the same fees and compensation for his services, as said Treasurer, as that officer was entitled by law to receive in the year 1862, not to exceed $10,000 per year." So that want of compensation has been no just cause of complaint by that officer since that time.

Now, Mr. Editor, since we find that it required a combination of the notorious quartet to consummate most of the crimes already exposed, are there any degrees of criminality? if so, which is the chief?

Not Withdrawn.

To the Editor of the New-York Times:

As an active worker and friend of Commissioner SAMUEL A. LEWIS, our candidate for State Senator from the Fifth District, I beg, through the columns of your extensively-read paper, to correct an erroneous impression, viz., that Mr. LEWIS has withdrawn in fear of MIKE NORTON, such not being the case. Indeed, the hearty indorsement and approval with which the name of the Commissioner is everywhere received, his unblemished character and spotless reputation, render it quite evident he is a formidable candidate, and one much dreaded by certain political opponents.

NEW-YORK, Tuesday, Sept. 5, 1871.

THE LOUISIANA LEVEES.

Powers and Contract of the Company of Repair.

Our readers are aware that the work of repairing and preserving the levees in Louisiana is hereafter to be looked after by a joint-stock corporation, chartered by the last Legislature, and bearing the title of the Louisiana Levee Company. Of its powers and promises the New-Orleans Times thus speaks:

"As the State was left otherwise without means or availabilities to secure the levees against the Spring rise, the delay which occurred on organizing this corporation created serious fears, which it is gratifying to hear may be set at rest. We are assured that the aid and co-operation of the wealthiest capitalists have been secured in this work, and that it will be immediately commenced. The Company was regularly organized on Aug. 30, by the resignation of the old Board of Directors, and the election of the following members to supply their place: A. F. Williams, Harvey M. Dibble, E. Q. Sewell, Jos. H. Oglesby, Walter H. Waite, J. P. Bronson, J. R. West, Robt. B. Campbell, G. F. Sherman, and A. G. Brice. Mr. JONES, a prominent engineer, now connected with the Pennsylvania Central Railroad, was elected Commissioner on the part of the Company. Mr. JEFF. THOMPSON, the State Engineer, has since been appointed Commissioner on the part of the State; and it is understood that Gen. FORSTER, of the United States Engineer Corps, has been selected by the President as the representative of the United States upon the Board, delegated to locate and supervise the construction of the levees. It is confidently expected that the work will be under way by the 20th of the present month, and its earliest attention will be given to the localities of Bonnet Carré and Carrollton. Whatever objections may exist in regard to the policy of intrusting this great public work to a private corporation, there can be no doubt that the regular system of levees it contemplates—independent of its unequal taxation features—will redound to the advantage of the State, both on the score of economy and security, while an honest and economic administration of its affairs, with an active and efficient prosecution of its work, will do no little toward commending it to public favor. The losses from overflow have been so enormous of past years, and the sufferings resulting therefrom so calamitous, that almost any fairly-administered system, which would protect our lands and insure our planters against loss, would prove a gain. Whether the one now undertaken will best accomplish all the desirable ends, is yet to be determined. We have only now to wait and judge of the tree by the fruit it produces."

CONVERSION
U. S. FIVE-TWENTY BONDS.
Banking-House of Jay Cooke & Co.

NEW-YORK, Sept. 8, 1871.

The signal success of the New Five Per Cent. Government Loan foreshadows the early funding of the entire public debt at a less rate than 5 per cent., and indicates that the average rate of interest on loanable capital in this country will henceforward be considerably lower than it has been, the tendency being to an equalization of rates between America and Europe.

In view of these facts, the present holders of United States Five-Twenties must decide whether it is not best to make AT ONCE such a change of investment as will enable them to realize as PROFIT, or add to their capital, the present average premium of 14 per cent. on Five-Twenties, while at the same time largely increasing their annual income.

Holders of Five-Twenties of the issues of 1862, which, under the recent announcement of the Secretary of the Treasury, will be paid off in December next, have special and immediate reason to consider the question of conversion, unless they wish to receive coin for their Five-Twenties, or exchange them at par for bonds of the new issue, bearing an average rate of 4½ per cent.

To all holders of United States securities who wish to take advantage of the present most favorable opportunity for changing their investment at a large profit, we strongly recommend Northern Pacific Seven-Thirties, (principal and interest payable in gold,) now selling at par in currency. The results already accomplished in the construction and equipment of nearly Three Hundred Miles of road, and the rapid development of the adjacent country, have established the permanency and success of the Northern Pacific enterprise, and created a large and rapidly-increasing demand for the first mortgage bonds of the Company. With their high rate of interest, ample security, and their convertibility into the lands of the Company at 10 per cent. premium, they constitute a most desirable investment, and can hardly fail to advance considerably above par at an early day.

The holder of a $1,000 Five-Twenty bond who exchanges it NOW for Northern Pacifics, thereby increases his principal by 14 per cent., receiving $1,140 in Northern Pacifics for $1,000 in Five-Twenties. He also permanently increases the yearly interest income on his investment more than 38 per cent., or from $60 in gold to $83 22 in gold.

Funds invested in Five-Twenties at their present premium, yield 5¼ per cent. interest in gold, or 5 9-10 in currency. Northern Pacific Seven-Thirties yield 7 3-10 per cent. in gold, or 8¼ in currency.

These most unusual opportunities for the profitable conversion of Government bonds into corporate securities of undoubted reliability cannot, in the nature of the case, long continue. The increasing abundance of loanable capital, both at home and abroad, the almost certain rise in value of all desirable railroad mortgages, the rapid absorption of Northern Pacific Seven-Thirties and the probable early substitution of a 5 per cent. bond for the remainder of the Northern Pacific loan, and the early funding of the remainder of the national debt at lower rates, promise very soon to change the entire aspect of the loan market, which is just now so peculiarly favorable to investors.

This state of things suggests prompt action on the part of those who wish to exchange securities in time to profit by the present high premium on Five-Twenties.
